State Reads Falcone Letters Implying Threats, Rests Case

Defendant Shows Change Of Emotion

JIM THORPE, Jan. 21 — The State closed its case against Daniel Falcone today by quoting letters containing implied threats against the lives of Mildred Daneker and her husband.

Prosecution attorneys produced testimony that the letters were written by Falcone.

On trial for the murder of the Danekers last Oct. 3, Falcone showed emotion for the first time today. Clutching a handkerchief in his hand, the 52-year-old former Bangor councilman wiped visible tears from his eyes.

The tears came as a State police expert read the letters aloud in a hushed courtroom in a dry, dispassionate monotone.

The last letter read before the State rested it case ended with this phrase: ". . . with all my love until death do us part."

Until today, Falcone had sat through testimony without expression. He had stared silently as the State produced a witness who testified that the bullets that killed the Danekers were fired from a gun found in Falcone's possession when he was arrested.

A handwriting expert testified that the letters placed in evidence were written by Falcone.

The Commonwealth contends that Falcone shot Matthew Daneker and his 36-year-old wife on the steps of a Palmerton church last Oct. 3 as the result of an "unfortunate infatuation" between Falcone and the woman.

The reading of the love letters today caused Judge James C. McCready to clear the courtroom of all persons under 21, an order he indicated would remain in effect until further notice. Despite this ban, however, the courtroom was jammed for both of today's sessions by adult spectators. Many teenagers remained clustered outside the courthouse even after refused admittance to the courtroom itself.

Judge McCready had planned a night session tonight, such as was held last night, but when the Commonwealth concluded the reading of the love letters by 3:20 p.m., the jurist announced the next court session would be tomorrow.

The Commonwealth, in presenting the letters, told the jury of eight men and four women some of them contained implied threats against the Danekers.

One read in part:

"Darling, I'll get desperate. You better see me once in awhile. If you should give me up, I'm afraid I should do something I'd regret for the rest of my days."

Another letter contained this passage:

"Don't let him (the Commonwealth said this was a reference to Daneker) keep picking on you for I think I'll be forced to take a hand. I don't want you to get hurt and I'll do anything for you."

The last few of the letters read—there were about 40 in all—indicated, the Commonwealth said, a cleavage in the relationship between Falcone and Mrs. Daneker.

"My dreams are being shattered," Falcone was quoted as having written in one. "I can't go on." And another letter read in part "You have put a wound in my heart that medical science won't cure." And in a third letter:

"I am almost determined to speak to your husband and tell him about us. Surely he wants to see you happy. After all he asked you if you wanted a divorce. Down in your heart you know you did, but instead you are trying to give me up."

The final Commonwealth witnesses today were Steve Trigo, 42, Palmerton, a Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. employe, and Willard A. Steigerwalt, Palmerton policeman.

Navy Rescues Seven Airmen In Mid-Pacific

HONOLULU, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Navy said tonight the transport Fred C. Ainsworth rescued all seven survivors of a twin-engined Navy amphibian forced down Wednesday night in the Central Pacific.

The transport radioed it had picked up the men at 6:50 p. m. the Hawaiian Sea Frontier said.

Only a few hours before the rescue, the seven airmen had transferred from their life raft to a 33-foot lifeboat dropped by an Air Force plane.

Three American Carriers Headed For Formosa Area

MANILA, Saturday, Jan. 22 (AP)—Three fast carriers—the Essex, Kearsarge and Yorktown—left Manila Bay today for what the Navy termed exercises at a "regular operational area."

A well-placed Navy source at Pearl Harbor said it would be a "safe assumption" that the carriers were headed for the troubled Formosa area.

The Chinese Reds captured a small Nationalist outpost island this week and now menace the 20,000-troop Nationalist garrison on the Tachen Islands 200 miles north of Formosa.

The area has swirled with hot land, sea and air actions all week.

A Pacific Fleet spokesman at Pearl Harbor said that all he could say officially was that the carriers "have put to sea on routine training exercises from Manila."

Informed sources in Washington have said that President Eisenhower would seek congressional approval next week for the use of U. S. naval and air forces in regrouping Chinese Nationalist troops.

Such an operation would involve evacuating Nationalist troops from islands in waters close to the China mainland, in reach of Communist bombers. Intelligence sources have reported at least two Communist submarines operating in Formosa Strait.

All three carriers are 33,000-ton warships of the Essex class. Each carries an air punch of nearly 100 planes. The Navy spokesman at Manila said there was no urgency about the departure of the three carriers.

They pulled out of Manila Bay at 7 a. m.—6 p. m. EST, Friday.

Normally a regular operational area for Manila fleet units would be the South China Sea off the Philippines.

Haas Upholds Bangor Board

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Dismissal of two employes of a Northampton County school district upon conviction of crimes has been upheld by the Department of Public Instruction.

The department made public today the decision by Dr. Francis B. Haas, who retired as state superintendent last Tuesday, upholding the Bangor Area Joint School Board.

Dr. Haas cited what he said was the conviction of Michael N. Sabatino last May 24 on charges of practicing medicine and surgery without a license. The other teacher, Joseph A. Trigiani, was convicted on charges of pool-selling and bookmaking last January, Dr. Haas said.

"A single conviction for a criminal offense is sufficient ground to justify dismissal of a professional employe," Dr. Haas wrote in each of the two teacher tenure decisions.

Intelligence Officer Faces Dismissal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Col. Patrick W. Hayes, a 47-year-old intelligence officer, was ordered by the Air Force today to show cause why he should not be dismissed from the service for associating with a beautiful German girl convicted of spying for the Russians.

The girl, Irmgard Margarethe Schmidt, 24, was sentenced to five years imprisonment by a judge of the U. S. High Commission in Berlin Dec. 21. The prosecution described her as one of the most dangerous spies encountered in Berlin since World War II.

In announcing the proceedings against Hayes, the Air Force said there was no indication he had given Miss Schmidt any secret information but that its investigation "did raise questions concerning the officer's judgment and conduct."

Hayes formerly served as an intelligence officer in Berlin, attached to a special investigation wing. A native of Scranton, Pa., he is now assigned to the Air Force Headquarters Command at Bolling Field, here. His present home address was given as Alexandria, Va.

The Air Force said Hayes will

Nationalist Airmen Back Up Official Intent To Defend Tachens In Spite Of Losses

TAIPEH, Formosa, Saturday, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force blasted Red gunboats and motorized junks along the China coast Friday by way of backing up present official intent to defend the Tachens despite the fall of nearby Yikiangshan.

"So far we have no plan to evacuate any of our island outposts," said a Defense Ministry spokesman after the Nationalists admitted the invading Reds had wiped out the last resistance on Yikiangshan.

"All of them will be defended at all costs."

Reports from Washington said President Eisenhower was considering asking Congress for special authority to use U. S. naval and air power to help evacuate some 20,000 Nationalist troops, if need be, from the Tachens, 200 miles north of Formosa.

Fallen Yikiangshan is eight miles north of the Tachens.

Vice Adm. Roscoe E. Good, deputy chief of logistics for U. S. Naval Operations, arrived in Taipeh Friday but there was no indication if this had any connection with the latest reports from Washington.

Nationalists said waves of fighter-bombers yesterday sank more than 20 Red ships, most of them motorized junks such as those which helped put ashore more than 5,000 Red invaders of Yikiangshan.

The Nationalists claimed more than 80 of the junks were attacked near Wenchow Bay about 70 miles southwest of the Tachens and more than 20 were destroyed.

The air force said three 250-ton Red gunboats were bombed and one possibly sunk near Nanjih Island.

Nationalist officials were jolted by the Washington reports on a possible evacuation of such offshore islands as the Tachens. Junior officials familiar with views of the highest authorities said the Nationalists would be loathe to quit the Tachens and, if it was brought about, it would be through friendly understanding rather than American pressure.

The U. S. 7th Fleet is committed to protect only Formosa and the Pescadores but Nationalist officials are known to feel that at least some of the more important offshore outposts must be held.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the last resistance of 720 guerrilias on tiny Yikiangshan was wiped out at 9:12 p.m. Thursday night, 61 hours and 12 minutes after the Red invaders first landed.

The Reds claim all fighting ceased the day of the invasion and that the invaders made a rich haul of howitzers, mortars, cannons, machineguns, rifles and ammunition.

Board Ousts Hospital Head At Allentown

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Allentown State Hospital Board of Trustees today fired its superintendent at the request of Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro.

The announcement was made by the office of Gov. George M. Leader which said that a successor will be sought immediately for Dr. Roy W. Goshorn.

Shapiro said yesterday that Goshorn was not qualified to continue to head operations at the Allentown institution.

Thomas K. Hodges, Leader's press secretary, said that Dr. Hamblen C. Eaton, superintendent of Harrisburg State Hospital, would assume direction of the Allentown institution until a successor is named.

Hodges, acting at the direction of the governor, said that Dr. Lauren Smith, Philadelphia, would head an advisory committee to consult with Shapiro as to the "most suitable candidate" to succeed Goshorn in the post.

The hospital's board of trustees met all afternoon before reaching the decision to dismiss Dr. Goshorn.

Third Person Reports Gift From Stranger

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Another surprised beneficiary reported receiving money from Chicago's phantom philanthropist today.

This time the giveaway amounted to $250.

Nathaniel Patterson, 22-year-old Negro mustered out of the Army eight days ago, said he had just learned his old job wasn't open when the stranger approached him.

He was questioned about his religious beliefs and economic situation, Patterson said, and then handed the money.

This is the third similar incident reported to police within a week, with the known gifts totaling $650. It may be that the mysterious benefactor has given away other cash which has not been brought to their attention, police said.

Driver Flunks Every Drunkenness Test; Jury Learns He Had Several Good Reasons

NORWICH, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—They had arrested him for drunken driving, but he insisted he was sober.

Police said his eyes were glassy, his speech thick and his walk unsure.

Roswell Woods was given the usual tests. He was asked to pick up a coin from the floor. He couldn't quite make it. He was asked to blow up a balloon as a test. He couldn't do it.

He was taken to court. He pleaded innocence and asked for an attorney.

Before a jury, the 47-year-old veteran heard himself accused. His attorney, Glenn F. Carter, asked Woods to stand. He did.

"It has been testified that your eyes were glassy," the attorney said gently.

The accused pointed to his glass eye, placed there after he had lost an eye in battle.

"It has been testified that your speech was thick," the lawyer continued.

The defendant, speaking with difficulty, said he had partial paralysis of the throat. He said it resulted from one of 27 injuries received in the line of duty in the South Pacific.

"It is also testified," the lawyer went on, "that you failed to pick up a coin placed on the floor."

He brought out that Woods had been injured in both legs and had undergone an operation in which part of a bone in one leg was used to replace the shattered bone in the other. He was unable to stoop, he said.

"And now, the blowing up of the balloon," the attorney said. "You couldn't blow it up, could you?"

The defendant replied, "I lost half of my lungs in the war. I can't exhale very well."

The jury returned its verdict Wednesday night: "not guilty."

Ike, Aides Chart Moves In Crisis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower and his top advisers in the Cabinet and National Security Council are reported to have charted new moves in the Formosa crisis at secret White House sessions today.

Informed officials said Eisenhower would send to Congress early next week a proposed joint resolution authorizing use of American air and naval forces in regrouping Nationalist China's troops, as necessary.

Some of the Nationalist-held islands along the Red China coast would be abandoned as militarily worthless. Other islands like the embattled but strongly defended Tachens would be evacuated if Red Chinese pressure became too heavy. Troops removed from such places would be used to reinforce islands still to be defended—and Formosa itself.

Eisenhower met with the National Security Council for 50 minutes, then spent about 90 minutes with his Cabinet. Such meetings are traditionally secret. Several sources, however, said the Formosa situation, including the proposed resolution, was taken up.

Other developments:

1. Diplomats said the United States and Britain are keeping in close touch on the possibility of having the United Nations try to negotiate a cease-fire between the Chinese Communists and Nationalists. The subject has been talked about for weeks among diplomats of the two countries in Washington, London and New York. Ambassador Sir Roger Makins took it up again yesterday with Dulles.

2. New Zealand Prime Minister Sydney Holland, passing through en route to London, conferred with Eisenhower and later with Dulles. New Zealand began advocating U. N. action for a Formosa cease-fire a year ago.

3. An intelligence report that two or more Communist submarines are operating in the Formosa Strait became an influential factor among congressmen discussing the expected resolution on 7th Fleet evacuation authority. It indicated an element of risk in the whole situation which made them wonder how far they should go.

4. Dispatches from Taipeh, Formosa, said news of the possible evacuation of some of the islands near the Red China coast had jolted the Chinese Nationalist capital. They indicated, however, that the Nationalist government would go along even though it preferred fighting to hold all valuable territory rather than giving up any.

5. U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is reported to have told Premier Chou En-lai in the Red capital, Peiping, two weeks ago that his belligerent attitude toward Formosa was a cause of world tension, a denial of peaceful intentions and politically and morally unjustified. Chou had tried to tell Hammarskjold the whole thing was the fault of the United States.

Red China Invites Relatives To Visit 17 Americans Held Captive In Prisoner Camps

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The State Department indicated today—without definitely saying will not stand in the way of any Americans who want to visit relatives held in Communist Chinese prisons.

A department spokesman said, however, the government could not encourage the visits. He denounced the Reds for thrusting a "harrowing dilemma" upon American families, who apparently must decide for themselves whether to risk the long trip behind the Iron Curtain. In Congress there were cries of outrage at the Reds for not releasing the Americans forthwith.

The Red invitation, which also was announced by the United Nations in New York, was extended to relatives of 17 Americans captured during the Korean War, including 11 U. S. airmen recently sentenced to long prison terms as "spies."

The parents of at least one American airman and the wife of another announced they would accept the offer, but all of the other relatives interviewed held back for one reason or another.

The State Department spokesman, press officer Henry Suydam, said the government cannot "encourage" them to enter an area on American passport cannot "where the normal protections of be offered." But he declined to answer specific questions as to whether passports would be issued if requested.

Suydam said "world public opinion will judge the motives" of the offer.

"An appalingly callous propaganda gesture" was the way Sen. Potter (R-Mich) described it. He said the Reds have given "no indication that it is very safe for Americans to fall into their clutches."

Other senators expressed similar views:

Sen. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said it "may be a good will gesture or it may be for propaganda purposes."

The United Nations looked less askance at the offer, which it said stemmed from the recent trip to Peiping of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Hammarskjold went there seeking release of the American prisoners who have become a symbol in this country's strained relations with Red China.

A U. N. spokesman said Hammarskjold "has no doubt about the safety of those members of the families wishing to visit China to see their men."

The Peiping announcement apparently was timed by arrangement with U. N. headquarters in New York. Washington officials were aware that it was coming, although the State Department let several hours go by before Suydam made his no-encouragement statement.

The Defense Department sent out notices to the relatives last night, in time to reach them before the announcement was made at 9:30 a.m. EST.

These telegrams, which went out over the name of Brig. Gen. R. J. Reeves of the U. S. Air Force casualty branch, told of the offer and said this government cannot "assume any responsibility for your travel in Communist China, which must necessarily be undertaken at your own risk."

The messages said the United States considers the men's imprisonment unlawful and a violation of the Korean truce terms and promised "every effort to bring about their early release."

Woman Found 'Frozen Stiff' On Porch, Now In Hospital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — A middle-aged woman who appeared to be "frozen stiff" was rushed today to Prince Georges General Hospital, where doctors estimated her body temperature at 75 degrees at time of admission.

Normal body temperature is 98.6 degrees.

Suburban Bladensburg police identified the woman as Mrs. Annie Walls, about 45. She was found lying on a concrete front porch of her Bladensburg home about 8:30 a.m. Police said she apparently had lain there in subfreezing temperatures since 10 p.m. last night.

No precise temperature could be determined for several hours because the lowest mark on normal fever thermometers is 96 degrees. A special thermometer obtained at 2 p.m., five hours after Mrs. Walls was brought in, registered 80 degrees.

Doctors said at first they could find no evidence of pulse or blood pressure. The woman's heart was beating only 40 times a minute, about half its normal rate, they said.

The hospital reported that Mrs. Walls was placed uncovered in a "chilly" room until early afternoon to "thaw out gradually," then she was given warm baths.

At 4 p.m. her temperature was normal and she was "awake and talking." Doctors said, however, that most of her talk was incoherent.

Her case is similar to the widely publicized "deep freezing" of Dorothy Mae Stevens, a 23-year-old Chicago woman found lying in an alley in February 1951. Miss Stevens body temperature was officially recorded at 64 degrees.

Mrs. Stevens survived, but her legs and arms were amputated. She now is employed in a part-time job.

Surrender With Appeal 'For Hope'

BOSTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Four long-term convicts who held five guards hostage more than three days in Massachusetts State Prison today changer their snarling death threats into meek appeals for "some glimmer of hope" and surrendered to a seven-man civilian committee.

They gave up after 80 hours of being barricaded in an isolated cell block during which the power of the state was practically stalemated by the threats to kill the guards.

At the time of their surrender, the quartet turned over two guns, several knives and a supply of ammunition.

Their capitulation was complete. They released the guards and six inmates who had been held in the stronghold against their will. All were unharmed.

The civic committee spokesman, Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, declared unequivocally that "no bargain or deal" was made to effect the surrender.

The tenseness of the situation was graphically summed up by Canham as he described the exact moment of the disarming.

"Until the precise moment when (they) pulled their guns from their dungarees pockets, slipped out the clips or bullets, and tossed them on the table before us, we did not know whether the men would choose tragedy or hope.

"We had talked, back and forth, for some six hours to try and bring them to choose hope."

The guard hostages were reluctant to discuss their experience. Their spokesman, Warren L. Harrington, said, "We're tired and that is all."

The convicts are Theodore (Teddy) Green, bank robber and jail breaker; Walter Balben, robber-gunman; rapist Joseph Flaherty, and cop slayer Fritz Swenson. All are serving long terms and were immediately returned to their cells.

That the original intent was to smash their way to freedom was apparent. Their weapons, mysteriously smuggled into the 150-year-old prison, along with a makeshift ladder, were evidence that freedom was their goal.

When their burst for the outside failed, they retreated into the solitary confinement block. Although no food was given them during the siege, they were able to give coffee to the negotiating committee.

Governor's Councilor Patrick J. McDonough, one of the committee, said, "They served us coffee — better than I have had at many restaurants. We had sugar and cream. They could have held out for an awful long time. They had plenty of cigarettes. They were well-barricaded."

The committee, besides Canham and McDonough, was chosen by the rebelling convicts themselves, Canham said.

Gov. Herter, who left full authority in the hands of Warden John J. O'Brien during the siege, said the quartet will be tried quickly for their offense.

Atty. Gen. George Fingold said he personally will prosecute the cases. He did not specify what charge would be grought against the men.

One possible charge — holding guards as hostages — could add 20-year terms to their already lengthy sentences.

Canham explained that the committee was composed of two prison chaplains and the prison doctor and was enlarged last night by four other appointments.

"You may ask who appointed the

Costa Ricans Capture Last Rebel Bases

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Costa Rican command announced today the capture of the last two rebel bases in the northwest tip of the country and said the supreme chief of the 10-day rebellion, former President Rafael Calderon Guardia, may be trapped.

The government also announced the capture of a "very important person"—leading to rumors that the VIP was Capt. Teodoro Picado Jr., son of another exiled ex-President and second in the rebel high command.

Series Based On Sermon On Mount

AT 11 A.M. worship Sunday in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. Harold C. Eaton will continue a series of sermons based on the sermon on the mount. Tomorrow's sermon is a sequel to last Sunday's "First Steps to World Peace," under the caption "The Proper Disposal of Enemies." This is a study of the Christian attitude toward those who "Despitefully Use Us."

Miss Maxwell announces that this Sunday the Junior Boy Choir and Junior Girl Choir will sing, as will the Altar (Senior) Choir.

During the morning hour there will be a kindergarten which will be staffed by Mrs. Robert Ace., Mrs. Richard Lessig and Miss Leetta Macklin.

Flowers are being presented by Mrs. Harry Warrick in memory of loved ones.

At 6:15 p.m. the Intermediate and Senior Youth Fellowships will act as host to the Stroudsburg Methodist Youth Fellowship, a program featuring a trumpet trio and group participation in worship together with a motion picture on the United Nations, "Workshop For Peace." The United Nations has been the theme of Youth Fellowship study in the past month.

The service at 7:30 p.m. will begin with a congregational hymn sing led by Dr. Corson. Rev. Eaton will speak on "Life's Largest Investment."

On Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. will be held the "Family Night" supper meeting sponsored by the WSCS. All families of the church are urged to attend.

On Thursday, the Bykota Fellowship will have a "Cook-in."

Congregational Meeting Held

DELAWARE WATER GAP — The yearly congregational meeting of the Presbyterian Church was held in the Sunday School room Wednesday night with 20 members present. It had been preceded by a meeting of a planning committee called to the manse during the week to represent each church organization.

Present were Mrs. John Wilson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Elam Gray, M. E. Leffler, Jack LaBar, James Anthony. This committee drew up three lists of names to submit to the congregational meeting as suggested nominees for the office of elders, as trustees, and on the board of deacons; a new group which the committee suggested.

Rev. Luther Markin was moderator. Francis Drake acted as clerk for elder George Hauser who was absent because of illness.

Sunday School Superintendent Francis Drake stressed need for teen-agers and more adults in the school and highly praised the teachers for faithful service. Mrs. Francis Drake gave the Sunday School financial report. Elder Richard Hauser reported as benevolent treasurer; and H. J. LaBar reported on the Every Member Canvass recently held. The work of the Boy Scout Group, which is sponsored by the church, was outlined.

The suggestion of the planning committee that the number of elders and of trustees be increased from six to nine was unanimously carried. It was also voted to adopt their suggestion to form a board of deacons. Much time was spent in discussing the final suggestion of the planning committee that the elders be elected by a rotary system.

It was reported that such a system had been adopted in April 1936 at the suggestion of the then pastor, Rev. Rowland White. That plan elected trustees for three year terms but did not prevent their immediate re-election. The present planning committee wanted a rotary system that would forbid the re-election of an elder or trustee or deacon for at least one year after their three-year term expired. It was carried by a majority of five votes.

The outgoing elders as the senior elder of the church, John Bedford and Francis Drake. Outgoing trustees are Dr. Bennett Strait and H. J. LaBar. The names suggested by the committee were nominated and elected, with several changes as to deacons, to conform to Presbyterian rule that they must be members of the electing church. New elders are A. Okuno, Henry Kulp, Alexander Bensinger, Clifford Hauser and Russell Shellenberger.

The congregational meeting adjourned for the corporation meeting, which was presided over by M. E. Leffler with H. J. LaBar as secretary. President of the trustees, Russell Buzzard, was absent because of illness and Secretary Dr. Bennett Strait was out of town. Layton Hauser, treasurer gave the financial report of the church. Mrs. John Wilson, Jr. is financial secretary. The financial report of the Sunday School was incorporated in the minutes and Mrs. Richard Hauser gave the treasurer's report of the Women's Auxiliary. Mr. Markin spoke of the need that there be adequate insurance on church buildings. The new rotary system and the nominees of the planning committee were accepted. Trustees elected were Herbert Baker, Walter Bryfogle, Herbert Buzzard, John Wilson Jr., and Dr. Paul Maxwell.

The board of deacons elected Mrs. M. E. Leffler, Mrs. Edythe Glebe, Francis Drake, Harry Buzzard, Robert Carlton, Mrs. Clifford Hauser, Miss Nellie Burd, John Bedford, Mrs. M. C. Westbrook. All officers elected during the meetings are to decide as to which of the electees serve one, two and three years.

Earlier, a covered dish meal had been served at which young folks and members of the congregation were present. An amusing situation arose when all the families who arrived first had brought cakes. Later comers had a diversified list of foods that made for a fine supper. After supper Rev. Markin showed colored slides of his trips in New Mexico to which his comments added interest.

East Borough Presbyterians To Dedicate Two Flags At Services Sunday Morning

DEDICATION OF the new Christian Flag and the American Flag will be one of the features of the 11 a. m. worship Sunday at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. One of the flags is a gift from a church family.

Rev. Frank Wingerter will speak on "The Chain of Christian Character." Mrs. Homer Osborne and Mrs. Herbert Reisenwitz will be hostesses while Mrs. Eugene Edelmann will have charge of the nursery.

Flowers are being presented by Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Huffman in memory of Mr. Huffman's parents. The Young People hold their fellowship meeting at 6 p. m. with Mary Sue Harvey and Arlene Coffman as sponsors.

The pastor's home will be host to the young adults of the church at 7 p. m. under the leadership of Miss Edna Stagg. Mrs. Horace G. Walters, president of the Women's Auxiliary announces that they will meet Wednesday at 6 p. m. around a covered-dish supper. The new officers will be installed and Mrs. A. A. Holbrook will bring the devotions.

Friday is the time chosen for the monthly meeting of the Golden Rule Class called for 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Betty Warner. The pastor will begin a communicants' class for young people desiring to unite with the church, meeting at the church Saturday at 9 a. m.

The Mary Martha Circle met last Monday and elected the following officers: Mrs. Bertha White and Mrs. Carlyle Huffman, co-chairmen, with Miss Ruth Black as secretary and Mrs. Jack Wyckoff as treasurer.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—John 14:25-26; 16:7-15; Acts 2:1-4; 3:1-4:31; Romans 8:26-27; I Corinthians 2:9-16; Galatians 5:22-23.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"THE YOUNGER classes may find this lesson somewhat difficult," writes Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in his notes on the lesson. At first glance it seems so, but there are truths presented in the references given us that will thrill even young children, and give them an insight into the "spiritual and temporal values of life," which a prominent churchman recently stated the youth of today needs.

We will try to tell the story of the lesson simply and let the teacher apply it to the age group he or she is teaching.

In the first place, Jesus is talking to His disciples—all the men and women who believe in Him. He is trying to make them understand that he will be with them but a short time, a thing they cannot seem to comprehend.

"These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My Name, He shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

Again, "I tell you the truth; it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you."

Forty days passed after Christ's ascension and the disciples were gathered in one place to await the coming of the day of Pentecost.

"And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

"And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance."

A far greater change was to come to the disciples than speaking with other tongues, as we shall see.

Peter, the timid, who had denied his Lord at the trial for fear he might involve himself in trouble, was given the strength to speak boldly, without fear, as were the other disciples. So eloquently did he speak that 3,000 souls were converted at one time.

Shortly thereafter Peter and John went to the synagogue, encountering a man who had been helpless from birth, who was begging at the door of the temple. The two fixed their eyes upon the man, and told him, in the name of Jesus Christ, to arise and walk, which he did, even leaping in his joy.

For this the two disciples were imprisoned overnight, then hailed before the Sanhedrin, and asked by what power or by what name they had performed the miracle? They couldn't deny the healing, but they wanted to know by what magic it had been accomplished.

Then Peter, "filled with the Holy Ghost," told them it was by the power of Jesus Christ, the same whom they—the priests, captain of the temple and the Sadducees—had crucified, and whom God had raised from the dead.

After conferring together the members of the Sanhedrin, noticing that Peter and John were unlearned and ignorant men, marvelled at their boldness and power. They decided to allow them to go free, but warned them that they must not preach Jesus Christ any more.

This same once cowardly Peter spoke out again before these powerful churchmen: saying, "Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard."

Going to their own company and reporting what had happened and what had been told them, all prayed together, and the Holy Ghost came upon them again, giving them still more inward peace and greater boldness to do God's work.

Writing to the Romans, Paul says that the Holy Spirit helps our infirmities; helps us to pray aright, and intercedes for us.

Finally Paul tells the Galatians the most comforting and helpful "fruit of the Spirit," is "love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law."

Let us memorize these words which make a beautiful, inspiring ending to a fine lesson.

Memory Verse—"Be strong and of good courage; . . . for the Lord thy God is with thee withersoever thou goest."—Joshua 1:9.

Annual Dinner Attracts 200

THE ANNUAL venison dinner sponsored by the Men's Fellowship of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, of which Henry S. Evans is president, was enjoyed this week by more than 200 men. The dinner was prepared by "Chef" Otto Lesoine.

A movie on "The Life Cycle of the Quail" (Bobwhite) was shown and brief speeches were given by Ben Williams from the Game Commission, John Doebling, Game Warden, and Rev. Orien Eichner, son of the late Rev. Floyd Eichner, for many years pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church.

The venison dinner has grown beyond the bounds of the local church membership and is becoming more and more a community affair. Several hunting and fishing clubs were represented including the Smithfield Wild Life Association, the "Wiggle-Inn" Hunting Club, and others.

Next year the third Monday of January has been set as the time for this gathering.

Dr. Rumsey will be out of town from Jan. 18 to Feb. 2, inclusive. —Adv.

Fourth Sermon On Prayer To Be Presented

TOMORROW at the 11 a.m. worship service in the First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg, the pastor, Rev. John A. Bolllier, will deliver the fourth in a series of sermons on the Lord's Prayer. His theme will be "Thy Will Be Done."

The Youth Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Earl Willhofte; the Westminster Choir, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Farmer, and the Senior Choir, under the direction of Vernon Imbt, will sing.

At 7 p.m. the Senior Westminster Fellowship will present a parent-youth forum on "How Much Freedom for Youth?" Adults on the panel will be Mrs. Horace Westbrook, Mrs. Russell Harmon, A. W. Williams and E. L. Williams.

Young people on the panel will be Sally Rayburn, Sara Dietrick, Kenneth Lee and James Allen. Miss Susan Harmon will serve as moderator. All young people and adults are invited to attend this meeting in the Church School assembly room.

Flowers will be presented by the Board of Deaconesses.

On Wednesday, Jan. 26, the Family Night supper will be held. Reservations should be made with the church office by noon Tuesday. The mid-week service will follow at 7. Topic for this service will be "Help for Wavering Disciples," Mark 9.

Church School teachers and officers will meet at 8 p.m. following the mid-week service.

HOW TO KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES

Do you keep your nose to the grindstone trying to give your family everything the Joneses have?

Then observe these neighbors carefully. They probably have something that escapes your notice.

They have family, friends, and material possessions. But they have something more.

Notice that the Joneses always attend the services of the Church. They have found that without spiritual guidance their other treasures are worthless. And they have discovered new solutions to their everyday problems. They view the world from a different slant, for they have found the faith to take life as it comes along.

The Joneses and more than 88 million other Americans are now church members.

If you really want to keep up with the Joneses, follow their lead. Find and cultivate the faith they've found. Go to Church this week . . . and every week, and make yours a Christian home.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Penny Saved . . .

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will need every penny it can get these next two years. Governor Leader said in his inaugural address that the state will have to raise some way somewhere in the neighborhood of $500 million in new money. Others have said it won't be quite that bad, more in the neighborhood of $300 to $400 million. That still makes it a real expensive neighborhood.

And it's going to be even more expensive in the following budget biennium, as the chain reaction of pledge future spending keeps on exploding. Previous Legislatures have committed the state to spend all these millions for such things as schools, paying off the soldier bonus, new hospitals and other public buildings. Nary a tax bill was attached to any of the legislation to raise the money.

Efficient and economical government is always a must. All of this free and easy spending has made it more so. It has put a tremendous premium on trimming away waste. Every dollar saved is a dollar that won't have to be raised in new taxes.

On this front, we are encouraged by the promises of governmental reorganization made by Governor Leader. He has sent task forces of specialists into every Commonwealth bureau, searching out ways to save money. We hope he pushes his reorganization plans without letup and has far better luck with them than did his predecessor, Governor Fine, who set up the Chesterman Committee to do this very thing. Many of the important recommendations of this "Little Hoover Commission" were rejected by the 1953 Legislature.

All of us taxpaying Pennsylvanians are watching and waiting, perhaps more hopefully than we did before because a new administration is taking over and won't be so loath to make the dust fly with its new broom as the long-entrenched Republican predecessor administrations were.

We noted with interest the remarks of one new Democratic official-to-be last week. Miss Genevieve Blatt, who will take over the Department of Internal Affairs in May, declared that if she "cannot make it a useful office" she'll be one of the first to advocate its abolition. Even the outside possibility that any elected official might decide his or her public duties are a waste of time and money, and publicly say so, comes as something of a shock to us. We aren't used to this kind of talk. More power to Miss Blatt. We will wait impatiently until she takes over the office, shakes it down and gives us the word.

Rules Of Procedure

With the change in party control of the Senate, the chairman of the investigation subcommittee formerly headed by Senator McCarthy is Sen. John McClellan, Arkansas Democrat. The new rules of procedure he has announced are in keeping with the calm and judicial temperament he demonstrated during the prolonged hearings last year.

They are primarily to safeguard the rights of witnesses, and thus are in accord with our traditional system of law, which so greatly protects the defendant.

A hundred rules would not guarantee absolute order and justice in any committee of the Senate, whose mmembers cherish their freedom of speech and action. Even though Mr. McClellan has written special rules to protect the committee against domination and misrepresentation by himself as chairman, the best assurance against that danger—and all others as well—is his own character and sense of fair play.

Filling The Pie

The Bureau of the Budget very thoughtfully put out a drawing showing where your tax dollar goes. It was in the shape of a pie with one slice for defense, another for interest charges, etc.

This is the pie that government spenders like to cut up. We hope our servants in Washington never forget that the filling comes from one source and one source only—the millions of taxpayers who dig down year after year to keep the pie fresh and juicy.

Manchester Guardian Comment Shows How Little British Know About U.S.

The "Manchester Guardian" is regarded by many as a superior newspaper, a teacher in a very good school requiring her pupils to look at it to contrast it with the home brand of publication on the assumption that we are not as good. A constant reader of the "Manchester Guardian," I find that while it comments on the United States in a superior tone, it often goes haywire on many subjects because its editors apparently believe that we are Great Britain.

For instance, I note in an editorial that it refers to Senator William Knowland in the following terms:

". . . His responsibilties as majority leader in the Senate end in January, and it is becoming more and more questionable whether he can continue as the President's first representative in Congress . . ."

It is a small matter but it does show how little the structure and character of our government are understood by erudite Britishers and why they are so often shocked that we are not like them, which, of course, we do not want to be because we prefer to be ourselves. Presumably, the perfect always expect others to achieve perfection. Let us analyze the sentence:

William Knowland is not and never has been the President's first or second or last representative in Congress. The Constitution provides for no such representation. In fact, the Constitution forbids it. Under the separation of powers, the President has no representative in Congress and Congress has no representation in the President's Cabinet. This has been so since we became a government more than a century and a half ago and one would expect it to be known by now.

William Knowland is:

1. A United States Senator elected to that office by the people of California for a six-year term. California is a sovereign state which elects two Senators; none is appointed by the President, although, under certain conditions, a Governor might appoint one. That is his only official position.

2. He is the leader of the Republican Party in the Senate by a vote of the Republican members of the Senate. The President may covertly influence some Republican Senators to vote for or against Knowland. If he did so openly, it would be regarded as an invasion of the dignity of the Senate and would be resented. In fact, some ardent supporters of the President proposed that William Knowland be removed from this post and that Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts replace him. That idea died a-borning, not because Saltonstall is disliked but because the Senate attends to its own business and resents intrusions.

3. The leader of the majority or the minority in the Senate does not represent, by custom and tradition, the President. He heads the Senator's particular party in the Senate. His normal relationship to a President is that he counsels him as to the attitude of Senators on legislation. If he chooses to go along with the ideas of a President, that is his personal option but there is no responsibility to do so.

4. Each Senator casts his own vote and is under no obligation to follow (a) the President, or (b) the majority leader, or (c) the party caucus. He is, in effect, a voting ambassador from his state, which, under our Constitution, is sovereign within the Federal Government which is a union of states. Any study of the voting record of Senators will show that they often vote against the majority of their own party on measures which that majority has determined upon. There is no criticism of such conduct. For instance, on agricultural legislation, local public opinion prevails without regard to party. A Senator then is not a national official but a state official who deals with national affairs.

All this, the editor of the "Manchester Guardian" might have discovered by reading our Constitution, or James Bryce's "The American Commonwealth," or Mark Sullivan's "Our Times," or Charles A. Beard's "The Rise of American Civilization," or a hundred other studies including Woodrow Wilson's "Congressional Government." He has probably done so, but the difference between the American system and the British did not take.

It is a truism that many, seeking perfection, gaze in the mirror at their own image, but our structure and tradition of government is not British; it may not be perfect but it is what we have and are accustomed to and curiously like, even if to do so makes us inferior.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

The Show Must Go On

The country's next big quiz show, continuing the Washington "I Love Probings" series will start soon with the stock market as its target. We suggest that it call Private Schine. He had nothing whatever to do with the market rise, but a way can be found to blame him, no doubt. A photo of Private Schine standing beside a bull-market leader, coupled with a charge that the photo of a bear operator had been clipped off, would add zest to the hearings. Bob Stevens and John Adams could be put on the witness stand, too. (They don't know anything about the market rise, but they didn't seem to know much about the subject in the last big Washington probe either)

They might even get Joe McCarthy into it, if merely to allege that he once declared a big stock market investor unfit to wear the uniform of an optimist and was rude in trying to find out how many Brooklyn dentists got out of the market at the right time. It should be quite an investigation. We trust no Stock Exchange official or industralist will refuse information on a claim it is "top secret" and "strictly classified" stuff. TV could make a great show of it. The market itself has been a "spectacular," as they call it in video circles. We would like to see the following features:

1.—A TV ballet "Dance of the Tape Watchers," with the high-jumping dancers vividly demonstrating the ups and downs in a manner anybody can understand without investigations.

2.—A comedy bit wherein a witness who is still in the market is questioned by a Senator who got 40 points lower.

3.—Strange Interlude. Here a Senator whose efforts to scare the public by a prediction of a bust were a complete flop will frame his questions to scare the public into believing that when things look good there must be dirty work at the crossroads.

4.—Midgets. A throwback to an earlier economic inquiry. There will be a slight switch. This time, for sheer novelty, a prominent financier will testify from a midget's lap. (The idea will be to support a charge that the financier is trying to profit from "a short position.")

We look for the following questions during the hearings . . . Can you justify prosperity when so many politicians promised a slump? . . . Is it not probable that business is bad and that the Gulf Stream is responsible for the hotter stock market?

THE GOLDEN PEAKS

My America —by Harry Boyd

What Will Congress Do About Farm Price Aid?

Washington—At this stage, hardly anyone can call the turn on what—if anything—the new Democratic Congress will do about farm price support legislation. The Democrats themselves are sharply divided over the issue, especially in the Senate.

Senator Allen J. Ellender (D), Louisiana, chairman of the Agriculture committee in the 84th Congress, is lukewarm towards any move aimed at restoring flat 90 per cent of parity price supports.

Ellender apparently is convinced that President Eisenhower would veto such legislation in any case and that there would not be sufficient votes to override the veto.

Two other Democrats on the committee—Senators Clinton P. Anderson, New Mexico, and Spessard Holland, Florida—feel that the present price support law should be given a chance to operate before Congress tampers any further with it.

Senator Olin D. Johnson (D), South Carolina, who ranks next to Ellender, has served notice that he will spearhead a drive to restore 90 per cent supports. GOP ranks are split over the issue, too, and the division carries through to the House side.

Windfalls—The Federal Housing administration is getting ready to announce the procedures under which apartment operators figuring in the FHA windfall profits scandals can resume business dealings with the agency.

After a series of lengthy conferences with the Justice department, an agreement between the two agencies is being readied and a limited number of builders will be re-admitted into the program.

FHA previously had "cleared" about 25 of the real estate men, but the action was withdrawn when the Justice department objected and asked for time to study the cases.

Most of the apartment operators who will benefit from the proposed action are said to be not guilty of any criminality but they were denied the FHA's assistance because, for some reason or other, they were involved in a project which netted a windfall.

Officials emphasize that these builders who collected huge profits from inflated FHA apartment loans which ran higher than actual construction costs probably will have to wait some time before they are given permission to re-enter the program. "Each case," says one official, "will be decided on its own merits."

Lending—The Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization is reported studying a proposal to curb federal lending activities in an effort to reduce treasury outlays in the loan field.

Informed sources say the proposal has been advanced by a special task force which has been studying the operations of all federal agencies lending money or guaranteeing loans or payments.

The task force, composed of a number of bankers, is said to feel that the government's extensive program of lending money to businessmen, farmers and individuals may be getting out of hand.

Informants said the task force is particularly concerned over the fact that the government's liability on loans has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years and that steps should be taken to hold the lending operation within limits.

TV ban—Despite pressure from the television networks, there's little likelihood that video viewers will see Congress in action on their screens this year.

The new House Speaker, Sam Rayburn (D), Texas, forbade TV coverage of committee sessions during the 81st and 82nd Congresses. His associates have indicated that he plans to enforce a similar ban during the 84th Congress.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R), Massachusetts, was more open-minded about TV coverage of congressional sessions during the 83rd Congress. He left it up to the various House committees to decide whether they felt it would be advisable. This rule applies to the Senate.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Of Palm Springs, the California desert resort, Cleveland Amory reports, "Not everybody you see at the lavish hotels is a millionaire," but adds, "Of course, they were when they arrived there." He implies that to exist in this wonderful California desert country you must be as rich as the 77-year-old member of the Rockefeller clan, who married a lady many years his junior. "What did he give his 'child' bride as a wedding gift?" asked somebody. "Blocks," was the answer. "Yes, blocks. Forty-ninth and Fiftieth—on Fifth."

A strict professor of English and his favorite pupil were motoring along a highway when a truck careened into their car, demolishing it, and pitching the occupants to the ground. The pupil, convinced that his injuries were fatal, gasped, "Farewell, professor! I fear that I am done for!" The professor, horrified, implored, "Don't say that, my boy! How can you, after all my teachings, end your last sentence with a preposition?"

Sen. Morse Loses Fee To Hear Sec. Dulles

Washington, Jan. 22—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's first meeting under Democratic control, for a private briefing by Secretary Dulles, was a costly affair for Senator Wayne Morse. In order for the Oregonian to be present, which he felt was essential, he had to cancel an address to the Oklahoma REA co-ops for which he would have received a sizable fee . . . Dulles told the senators that South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia can be saved from the Reds by forceful measures, and solemnly warned against a defeatist attitude on this grim situation . . . Senator Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) sharply criticized the State Department for failing to make known the magnificent job done by the Navy in saving thousands of Vietnamese from the Communists. Mansfield visited Indo-China last fall and personally witnessed these rescue operations. He sternly chided Dulles for not "letting the world know what our Navy did for these desperate people out there." . . . Industrial Mobilization Director Arthur Fleming will head the U. S. delegation to the conference of NATO production officials in Paris next week. One of the chief purposes of the meeting is to decide West Germany's role in making NATO arms.

Bulletins—President Eisenhower has been asked to address the annual convention of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association in Atlantic City, February 14-17. He is considering the matter . . . Representative George Miller, Calif., scored a unique distinction when he won a seat on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. He is the only Democratic member west of the Mississippi now on this Committee. Miller got this prize through his close friendship with Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., and Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass. . . . The special stamp the Postoffice will issue to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Rotary International will be an 8-center and is scheduled to be released February 23, instead of in May as originally planned . . . That vacancy on the powerful Senate Democratic Policy Committee, is going to Senator Carl Hayden, Ariz., second-ranking party member after Senator Walter George, Ga. Senators Dennis Chavez, N. M.; Clinton Anderson, N. M., and Hubert Humphrey, Minn., wanted this key seat, but Hayden claimed it on the strength of his seniority.

On the move—The U. S. Ambassador to South Vietnam will be Julian Harrington, career diplomat, who was Consul-General in Hongkong. He will present his credentials in Saigon next month, when General J. Lawton Collins, who is acting as special envoy there, departs for Washington . . . Pakistan Prime Minister Mohammad Ali is going to India early in the spring for talks with Premier Nehru, in an effort to iron out disputes between their two countries. Also to try to stress the need for joint vigilance against internal subversion and external aggression by Red China. The Pakistan leader considers the Communists the "new imperialists of the world" . . . Greek King Paul is set to do more traveling, this time to Lebanon and Syria. The visit to the former is arranged, and Syria is in process of scheduling Paul's tour there . . . Australia is following in the footsteps of the U. S. and is embarking on training Asian military officers. A group of 40 Burmese Army men is going to Australia for training service with military units there.

Social whirl — The White House's diplomatic reception this week, the most imposing of these annual state parties, will be accompanied by another glamorous event. This is the annual after-reception banquet that Mrs. Truxtun Beale stages in the Decatur House, her historic home, one block directly opposite from the White House. The famous mansion is lighted only by gas, and leading members of the diplomatic corps will be at the banquet . . . One Republican was invited and attended the party of the Women's National Democratic Club for the new Congress. The unusual guest was Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, head of the Department of Health, Education and welfare, who came with her husband, former Governor William Hobby of Texas . . . General Matthew Ridgway pulled a surprise at the Mexican embassy when he was decorated with the Order of the Aztec Eagle. In presenting the high decoration, Ambassador Tello spoke flawless English, and when General Ridgway's turn came to reply, he did so in excellent Spanish, to the beaming delight of his host.

Oldest River Commission Of Delaware

—by H. G. Heller

The historic Delaware River, cutting along the Pike, Monroe County border, has been the center of many major events in the history of this nation, from Washington's famous Crossing, and many incidents which had tremendous impact on shaping the course of the nation's growth.

It's scenic beauty has long been the subject of famous writers with the Delaware Water Gap topping the list as the "eighth wonder of the world."

Few people realize, however, that because of the Delaware River the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a special Commission—the oldest of its type in the United States.

It is the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and its navigable tributaries.

This Commission has been recording data since its establishment by William Penn in the year 1763.

During the last biennium of the State's operations, the Commission recorded arrivals and clearances of 36,177 vessels on the Delaware.

They had a gross tonnage of 209,640,653.

In addition the Commission listed the destination of all outgoing vessels with their cargoes and places of unloading.

The Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters is president of this Commission of seven members appointed by the Governor, and the Mayor of Philadelphia.

Equipped with a cruiser under a Port Captain, the commission picks up its data right on the river. The cruiser "Commonwealth" makes daily inspection of the Delaware River from Marcus Hook to Bristol, Pa., and reports and acts on any infractions of the rules of navigation.

He has charge of the Harbor Masters at Chester and Bristol and is present at all launchings in order to protect life and property and to expedite the launching.

The Navigation Commission licenses all Pennsylvania and New Jersey pilots and holds hearings on all accidents in which one of their licenses is involved. Penalties are applied where neglect is evident.

The historic Delaware and its historic Navigation Commission are a vital factor to the economy not only of Pennsylvania, but the nation.

Add to that the rapid spread of industry up the Delaware Valley and the great river becomes something more than a cradle of history and a spot of major scenic beauty in the United States.

MEMOS OF A GIRL FRIDAY

Dear WW: Marilyn Monroe's attorney called. Said he was unhappy about the prediction that her publicity would worsen. But it did a few days after you warned Zanuck it would. Hedda ran a long blast. Louella did one, too, (not as rough) and several other coast scribes took the studio's part . . . Jack Kofoed did a long one pointing out that DiMaggio always showed up for the game, even when his heel gave him agony, etc. . . . Oh, well. Godfrey's having trouble with his troupe, Berle with his sponsor and Marilyn with her studio. These days it doesn't pay to be a success.

Nothing in the papers yet about the well known society woman, who swallowed a full bottle of sedatives to keep her son from marrying a Nobody. Foolish mama is on the critical list . . . The confirmation that Dorothy McGuire reconciled with her husband (like you said Sunday night) should remind the AP and UP deniers of your tee-hee: "Never deny the other feller's scoop. It might be true!"

The Gaekwar of Baroda (his frau left him) is consoling himself with ballerina Myrna Malkenoff of Bklyn . . . It's a boy for the Rolf Kaltenborns at Drs Hosp. Their 5th image. Papa is veteran commentator Kaltenborn's son . . . I saw Gene Tierney (or her look-alike) with Dr. S. Cressman in Hick's . . . Vic Mature's new baybee is a starlet named Ann Murrow . . . Cartoonist Chas. Addams could have fun drawing this news: Maude Collin, a show-gel at the Vegas Sahara, just married Jim Casket. He's a Texas millionaire. A dozen of the bride's suitors held their own private funeral . . . I don't say Gloria Vanderbilt is a publicity-hound, but she certainly keeps barking for more.

I can't stop giggling over the way the Financial Editor of the N. Y. Times keeps saying every day: "Following Winchell's television report on P. O. the Stock Exchange made history again" . . . The poor man apparently doesn't read his own paper, which ran the news about P. O. the day before you did . . . Haw! . . . You merely made it public.

Oscar Hammerstein and Josh Logan read "Ankles Aweigh" by Eddie Davis and Guy Bolton (starring Betty and Jane Kean) and invested heavily . . . Playwright Jane Anderson and zillionaire J. Fortune Ryan are a date . . . Bob Considine, Frank Conniff and Sloan Simpson have a new program on ABC—tv Sabbaths, "Let's Take Sides"—a breezy panel . . . "Festival," which opened at the theater "Tender Trap" was forced to quit, left me ho-hummy . . . Remember Brenda's friend who gave the cops on Park Avenue all that thouble with his fists? I hear he picked on the U. S. Navy in a Rome bistro and now has a bent beak.

You recently gave an orchid to Mary Anderson in "Lunatics and Lovers." Her husband called from Hollywood and said: "Thanks. I hope such plugs open the eyes of the producers out here so they can avail themselves of her great acting talent and I can get back my talented wife at the same time" . . . Louis Cochran, author of "Row's End," has a new book called "Hallelujah, Mississippi." It is due in the book shops on the 27th. You liked his wordage.

Polio Vaccine Can Create Long Protection Against Paralysis, Says Dr. Salk

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk today reported new evidence that his polio vaccine could create very long or perhaps lifetime protection against paralysis.

Even the first shot of vaccine might be enough at times to create a protective mechanism in your body. Later booster shots would not only strengthen that defense, but be a test to show whether you still had the defensive mechanism.

This defense would be a hypersensitivity which would act quickly to produce lots of antibodies against any polio virus which hit you. And Dr. Salk finds you might have this setup without having detectable amounts of antibodies floating in your bloodstream.

The University of Pittsburgh scientist described this concept to a polio conference sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

He bases it on two very interesting new evidences of how polio viruses behave.

There are three types of virus which cause human paralysis—the Brunhilde, Lansing and Leon types.

One finding is that Brunhilde is apparently the worst one for causing paralysis. It may cause up to seven times more paralysis than do the other two types.

But he also finds that invasion by the Lansing type can create some protection against the Brunhilde type.

An invasion by Lansing gives you antibodies against Lansing. It doesn't give measureable antibodies against Brunhilde. But it seems to "sensitize" the body against Brunhilde, so that if Brunhilde attacks, antibodies against it are produced faster and more abundantly.

Lansing also gives some hypersensitivity mechanism against Leon, Dr. Salk finds.

The reason seems to be that Lansing virus contains some of the constituents of the other two virus types. It may be a kind of "grandfather" of the other two viruses.

Dr. Salk reasons that the basic defense against paralysis is to have the hypersensitivity. The vaccine could create it, or be the primer to set it up. It would be a quick trigger to produce antibodies when natural infection came along, or a booster shot of vaccine was given.

Part of the evidence came from studies of antibodies in Pittsburgh children, and how they reacted when given vaccine shots.

Other evidence came from comparing antibody types in persons who had been paralyzed and treated at Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, with other persons who had not been paralyzed.

That study showed that Brunhilde was responsible for seven times as much paralysis as the other two types. Yet it appears you have about an equal chance of being exposed to any one of the three types. The prior exposure to Lansing seemed to give some protection against paralysis from Brunhilde.

Dr. Salk said no evidence was found that paralysis is caused by anything other than the three known types of virus.

Fire Siren Test Scheduled Today If Repairs Made

Stroudsburg's main fire siren atop the Municipal Building will be repaired this morning, weather permitting.

Millard A. Marsh, fire chief, said that if the work is completed by the noon hour, a test will be made.

Firemen have experienced difficulty in hearing the siren at points distant from the fire station, so the borough has decided to remove one of the two compressed-air horns and concentrate all of the power in the remaining horn.

All Churches Cooperate In Campaign

MONROE COUNTY churches will help emphasize the importance of the fight against polio tomorrow.

Ministers in all churches in the county are expected to deliver brief messages in connection with Tuesday night's "Mothers March on Polio."

As in the past, the "Mothers March" will use the porchlight theme. All residents are asked to turn on their porchlights or other outdoor lights to signal the polio marcher to stop and collect a donation.

The messages in churches Sunday morning will be centered around the Biblical phrase "Let your light shine" as an urgent reminder to all homeowners to do their part in the polio drive.

Cooperation in the "Mothers March" drive is only one of many cases in which the churches have given a helping hand to public service collections during the past year.

Judge Hoban To Run Again

SCRANTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Judge T. Linus Hoban, of the Lackawanna County Common Pleas court, today announced his candidacy for a third 10-year term. Judge Hoban, rounding out his second term, will seek both Democratic and Republican nominations, he said. He has already been endorsed by the Lackawanna County Bar Assn.

Earl Sellers Stricken With Heart Attack

EARL M. Sellers, 58, of Stroudsburg RD4, dropped dead while walking along Tannite Road in Stroud Township yesterday afternoon at 2:30. Dr. Perry Stearns, acting county coroner, said the cause of death was a heart attack. Pfc. Donald Henzey of the Stroudsburg State Police made the investigation.

Sellers had been living at the boarding house of Mrs. Paul Flyte. He was a former resident of 430 King St., East Stroudsburg and had lived in this area 27 years. The deceased was a native of Benton, Pa., and also had lived in Geneva, N. Y.

Dr. Stearns said Sellers had been a known cardiac and diabetic and had been warned against walking. He had been ill since being hospitalized last October.

Michael Phillips of Stroudsburg RD2 was the only witness. The friends had talked briefly on the street. Sellers suffered the attack just as he started to walk away.

Sellers was the son of the late John and Clara Kyle Sellers. He had last worked at the International Boiler Works in East Stroudsburg and was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by one brother, Joseph of Geneva, N. Y.; and three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Preston and Mrs. Esther Hallenbach of Geneva, and Mrs. Martha Milkowski, East Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the William R. Thomas funeral home. Interment will be in Laurelwood Cemetery. Friends and relatives may pay their respects Monday after 7 p.m.

Living Costs Edge Lower

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The cost of living, as measured by the government, dipped slightly in December to reach the lowest level in 18 months.

A new drop in food prices was given major credit for the decline in a report issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics today. There was also evidence that rents are being cut in some areas.

The index dropped three-tenths of one per cent between November and December, reaching 114.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period average.

This matched the largest decline between any two months of 1954 and was the lowest level since May, 1953. From the start to the end of 1954 there was a living cost reduction of one-half of one per cent. This was the first time living costs were lower at yearend, than when a year began since 1949.

Despite the gradual consumer price decline during most of last year, the yearend level still was relatively high, being only about one per cent less than the October, 1953, living cost peak, when the government index was 115.4.

Mrs. Aryness Joy Wickens, acting labor statistics commissioner, reported a tendency toward lower rents. She said that while rents soared 38 per cent between mid-1947, when controls began to be lifted, and the end of 1953, rents increased only 1.4 per cent all last year.

"During 1954," she said, "rent decreases began to appear more frequently, particularly in smaller cities, and more recently in a few large cities."

Forster Speaks On Printing

GEORGE B. FORSTER of Sun Printery was the guidance speaker at East Stroudsburg Junior High School this week.

Forster described the history of printing from the early Koreans to the present. Various improvements in printing techniques down through the centuries were outlined by the speaker.

The program was designed to fit in with a nationwide observance of "Printing Week." It was arranged by Elston Arnt, a teacher in the school and director.

Scott Appointed To Eight State Senate Committees Despite 'Freshman' Status

SEN. WILLIAM Z. SCOTT (R., 14th District) came off with an unusual number of important committee assignments and two vice chairmanships of committees in the Pennsylvania State Senate.

The Lansford, Pa., attorney and former member of the House of Representatives for four terms—amounting to eight years—is in an important position for the current sessions because committees will play a decisive part due to the politically divided nature of the legislature.

Sen. William Z. Scott

The Senate is dominated by Republicans by a thin margin and the House is heavily Democratic for the first session under Gov. George M. Leader.

Most important work of the Legislature is done in committees. Key men, of course, are the chairmen. Upon introduction, bills are referred to committee for consideration. The committee has authority to approve a bill, to kill it, revise or re-write it.

In short, committees hold the power of life or death over all legislation.

One thing is certain with the Democrats controlling committees in the House and Republicans those of the Senate—there will be no railroading of bills with this check and counter-check situation.

Sen. Scott, who represents the largest area in terms of miles of territory in the State with Wayne, Pike, Monroe and Carbon Counties involved, was given these assignments:

Vice chairman of the Judiciary General and the Local Government Committees, and member of Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, Corporations, Education, Highways, Labor and Industry, Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

11 Called For Draft Induction

ELEVEN AREA men have been ordered to report for induction into the Army on Tuesday, Jan. 25, it was reported yesterday by the Local Board 105 of the Selective Service System.

The group includes John R. Gravle of Stroudsburg, Alvin B. Merring Jr., Harold D. White, Meredith V. VanSickle and Milton A. Mosier, all of East Stroudsburg.

Others are James M. Flowers and Hermanus H. Martens, of Mount Pocono; Russell E. Treible, Shawnee-on-Delaware; Fred W. Tallada, Tannersville; Donald R. DeHaven of Henryville; and Donald L. Altemose, of Long Pond.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—State selective service headquarters here reported today that the Pennsylvania draft call for March is 773.

Col. Henry M. Gross, state selective service director, said that previous calls this year were for 790 in February and 1,691 in January.

Maple Sugar Run Expected Shortly

MEYERSVILLE, Jan. 21 (AP)—The first annual run of maple sugar water is expected in Somerset County within the next few weeks—a signal for residents to begin making maple syrup and to celebrate.

For several years now Somerset County residents have paid tribute to one of the county's chief industries with the Somerset County Maple Festival. This year it will be held from March 25 through March 27.

The maple sugar run usually begins early in February. Wooden buckets are hung under taps cut into maple trees. Later the sugar water is boiled and syrup results.

Couples Apply For Licenses

TWO MARRIAGE licenses were issued at the county courthouse yesterday.

They were to Philip G. Grace and Jeanne MacLeer, both of East Stroudsburg; and to Claude H. Heckman, Canadensis and Frances P. Muse, Jersey City, N. J.

Frable Sues For Damages

HARLEY FRABLE, of Kresgeville, has started a lawsuit in Northampton County Court claiming $6,505 damages as the result of a collision of tractor-trailers.

Frable's truck was damaged in a collision with one owned by Anthony J. Boza and Louis D. Moyer, both of Andreas, Schuylkill County, on Feb. 1, 1951, on Route 45, Pennsville.

Dr. George Zehner Returns To Home

DR. GEORGE D. Zehner, Tannersville physician, returned to his home yesterday morning after having been reported missing since Wednesday afternoon.

State police, who called off a search upon learning that the doctor had arrived home safely about 9 a.m., said they did not know where he had been during the period he was reported missing.

Family members said the physician had suffered a heart attack.

Floyd Butz

Floyd Butz Announces Candidacy

FLOYD BUTZ, Monroe County register of wills and recorder, announced last night he will seek the Democratic party nomination for that office again in the May primary.

Butz is now completing his second term in that office. Prior to becoming register and recorder he operated a retail store in this area.

In announcing his candidacy yesterday, Butz pointed to the fact that during his administration the office has been modernized and brought up to date.

New machinery has been installed with a resultant reduction in costs of the office to the county.

Butz and his family reside on N. Chestnut St., East Stroudsburg.

Car Collides With Borough Street Sweeper

DAMAGES totaling $1000 resulted yesterday morning when the Stroudsburg borough sweeper was struck from the rear by a car operated by William L. Jacques, 27, of 216 Normal St., East Stroudsburg.

The accident happened on the East Stroudsburg side of the interborough bridge at 6:50 a.m. East Stroudsburg police officer Louis Caramella reported traffic was held up for some time at the busy location. Charles Allen of the Stroudsburg police also investigated at the scene.

Neither Jacques nor John Tanner, 44, of 924 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, driver of the sweeper, were injured. But an unidentified woman passenger in the Jacques vehicle was believed to have been injured when she struck the windshield.

Police said the woman, who was "covered with blood" ran from the scene immediately after the accident preventing identification.

Jacques was traveling east when he struck the sweeper as it attempted to make a turn on the bridge, police said. He claimed he did not see the sweeper in the dark, according to Caramella.

The sweeper was damaged to the extent of $500, while the car was a complete loss. Its value was estimated at the same figure.

BPW Club Initiates New Members

The Business and Professional Woman's Club contributed $50 to the Mothers' March on Polio at their meeting on Thursday night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. The Mothers' March is the major community project of the club, and all of the members are expected to take part in the March.

The program at the meeting was arranged by Mrs. Betty Peckman, educational and vocational chairman, and Miss Esther Foley, health and safety chairman and featured Miss Ann Connors of the Bell Telephone Co. Through tape recordings she illustrated the telephone voices of different types of persons and showed cartoons of how the owners of those voices were imagined by the operators. The voices of president, Miss Marie Brown, and of Mrs. Edna Brockman were recorded, and then played back to the club.

The meeting climaxed with the installation of five new members: Pauline Peterson, director of elementary education at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College; Rose Mekeel, supervisor of the second grade, and Helen Booth, supervisor of the first grade at the Laboratory School at the college; Ruth Caressi, a nurse in the office of Paul Maxwell; and Emilie Bush, who is a licensed insurance agent and broker with E. A. Bell. Re-instated and welcomed back to club membership was Josephine Manchester, a social worker.

The candlelight installation was conducted by past president, Bernice All and arranged by the membership committee of which Evelyn Hastie is chairman. Ann George sang as a soprano solo, a song of welcome.

BOOKS AND BRIC-A-BRAC combine at Monroe County's newest library and exchange which opened yesterday at Worthington Hall, Shawnee. The library and exchange will be open each Friday from 3 until 9 p.m. and will be staffed by volunteers from the community. Shown above are two who served on the first day: Mrs. Spencer Cramer and Mrs. Alexander Coles. (Staff Photo by Carlton)

Hostesses at the social hour will be Mrs. Thomas Breslauer, Mrs. Howard Popkin, Mrs. David Hecht and Mrs. William Fierverker.

Michael Antonacci Is Five Years Old

Michael Antonacci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery J. Antonacci, 528 Lindbergh Avenue, Stroudsburg, celebrated his fifth birthday on Thursday.

The youngster was given a party at his home. Kay and Milton Angle and some of his other little friends attended as well as Michael's maternal grandparents.

Smith-Barry Wedding At Morristown

Mrs. Edna Osborn Barry, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Osborn of South Sterling, and Charles David Smith, of Newfoundland, were married on Thursday, January 20 at the home of the bride's nephew, Karl A. Osborn, 35 DeKalb Place, Morristown, N. J.

The ceremony was performed by C. Duane Hoffman, a cousin of the bride who is a student minister attending Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Osborn were the only attendants.

After a reception for about 20 relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a week's stay in Atlantic City.

Warm Seat

Here's a new use for the family hot water bottle suggested by a mother: Fill it half full of tepid water and place it at the bottom of the bathtub for a young child to sit on during his bath. It keeps him from skidding.

Teach Her To Cook

Since most women live with a frying pan in their hands, teach your little girl to cook while she is young. If you create the interest now, she probably will not find cooking such a dreadful chore in the future.

If you're a fortunate owner of a freezer, bear in mind that ice cream bought by the gallon is less expensive than ice cream purchased in separate quart containers.

Girl Scouts Growing In Membership, Leaders, Reports At Annual Council Show

The number of registered Girl Scouts in Monroe County at the end of January was 687, it was announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Girl Scout Council held on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, Club Court. Mrs. Mildred Munson, executive director, gave the annual report. The number represents a gain of 209 for the year, she said.

There are also 194 registered adult Girl Scouts serving as troop leaders, committee members and consultants. The gain in adult leaders was 44 during the year.

The whole meeting with Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, council president, in charge was an enthusiastic one with 55 persons present. A dessert, served by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Frank S. Weiss and Mrs. Koehler, preceded the meeting.

The program featured a puppet show presented by five Girl Scouts working on their puppeteer's badge under the direction of Mrs. Wendy Mazer. They presented "Rumpelstiltskin" with puppets they had made and costumed themselves. The girls were Karen Harbaugh, Linda Nittel, Gail Swank, Sandra Edelmann and Ann Marie Blair.

At a business session, one new member was elected to the board. She is Mrs. Thomas Larkin of Cresco and she will take the place of Mrs. Harlan Bard, who is moving from the community. She was also named Juliette Lowe chairman for the council and will be in charge of the Girl Scout Birthday Rally on March 12.

Mrs. Koehler read a report of the evaluation of the local council made by Mrs. Sarah Browning, council advisor, for the year 1953. Mrs. William Miller gave the camp report and Mrs. Sonya James, calendar chairman, announced that they had realized $334.95 from their sale. There are still some calendars out, she reported, and asked that they be returned. The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will begin on February 4, it was announced with half of the proceeds remaining with the troops and the other half to be used for the camp fund.

Mrs. George Wakefield announced a Leaders Association meeting for February 3 at 7:30 in the Temple Israel.

Mrs. Roger Acker announced a series of training programs for leaders. A basic training course for new Girl Scout leaders will be held January 27 from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Girl Scout House. It will cover troop business, Girl Scout History, outdoor activities and troop program planning. The patrol system will be demonstrated and songs and games will be part of the course.

Songs and games will be the sole object of the training workshop for leaders of all age groups to be held each Monday afternoon from 2 to 3 at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. All leaders are invited to come and asked to bring their song books. The workshop will begin January 24.

Altar Guild Meeting At St. John's

The Altar Guild of St. John's Lutheran Church met on Wednesday night at the church. Mrs. Harold Rupert presided at the meeting and the devotions were led by the vice president, Mrs. Mabel Weiss.

The guild voted to purchase a new gown for the acolyte. Other business was transacted and Miss Thelma Shaw presided at an altar quizz with members participating in the questions and the answers.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Buck, Mrs. Martin Buck and Mrs. Edwin Buck. The table was decorated with white mums and candles, and they served a dessert, cake and coffee.

New Members, Baptisms At Local Church

This has been a busy season at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church with 17 adults received into the church by transfer or confession of faith, and five babies being baptized by Rev. Roger C. Stimson within the past few weeks.

New members include Mr. and Mrs. George Povey and daughter, Miss Joan Povey; Mrs. Mildred Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. William Kraemer Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Manter, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Prouse, Mrs. Elsie Prouse, Miss Mary Brong, Mrs. Earl Ammerman and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Lewis.

The following babies were baptized: Martha Jane Kitson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Douglas Kitson; James Clarence Rinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rinker; Mary Jane Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Price; Mary Elizabeth Kraemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kraemer Jr., and Harold James Rodenbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Rodenbaugh.

Teenagers Need To Develop Art Of Conversation

By VIVIAN BROWN

Do you know what to talk about? To relatives and strangers as well as good friends?

Pretty, vivacious Diane Harris, about whom the radio-TV character Corliss Archer was built by her author-father, says she'll bet you don't, even if you think you do. Says she:

"Most young people aren't taught to hold a conversation. Parents do not help develop their curiosity for important things. Sure boys talk about sports and girls know a little about the theatre, but that about covers it."

Lots of parents when asked a question will respond by saying, "Oh, look it up in the encyclopedia," instead of discussing the point, she says.

"The only thing my own parents fell down on," says the 25-year-old Diane "was in not teaching me to read newspapers and books. Otherwise they were wonderful."

Diane looks back at the inspiration she was for her father's rollicking character Corliss, and says that she is grateful now that it was such a wholesome era—no smoking, drinking, high-heels or low-cut dresses, unlike young girls today—but she just wishes she'd learned "more about what happened in the world during that period, while it was going on."

Young people are pushed into maturity now long before they are equipped for it, she says. Lots of them practically go from the cradle to marriage. Some 12-year-old girls who can't add or tell you where the capital of the United States is are permitted to smoke, drink, wear high-heels and lipstick and steady date, something well-bred bobby-soxers in her era didn't do, she says.

She thinks girls should marry at about 24 and men at 30 "but until then," she says, "unless they're exceptional, they're just not ready."

Young people today live for "simple, unimportant pleasures," according to her. How can they pass on good sense to another generation when they haven't learned to evaluate things for themselves, she asks.

Not all young people fall into this pattern, of course, says Diane, but a large percentage do ruin their lives by trying to reach adulthood too soon. Eighty-five per cent of girls who reach age 25 are married today, statistics show, and the majority of first mothers is under the age of 20.

"Because my father used me as a yardstick for teen-agers I have spent a lot of time thinking about the situation. We used to analyze the way they felt all the time."

Diane who has been in several Broadway shows as well as TV productions has had one big disappointment in her life. That was when she tried out for the television role of Corliss. After the camera test she was told with tears in her eyes:

"You are very good, but just not the Corliss type."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Some people are always "good copy" in the newspaper sense and Mrs. LeRoy Koehler is one of these. Howwever, I think she outdid even herself with the story that had all of the Girl Scout Council members still chuckling yesterday, a whole day after she told it at the council meeting.

She is, of course, president of the Girl Scout Council and as a conscientous president was deeply interested in the birthplace of Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts. The birthplace is to be a national shrine, so on the Koehlers' trip South they made a special effort to visit it.

They found it in their AAA book, located the town and the street and the house with a placque in front. However, to her disappointment no one answered the door. She peeked in the windows and tried the side door and finally went around to the back while Roy waited in the car.

The back door was open so she went in. There was no one around but she wandered through the rooms, admiring the furnishings, storing up bits of description that she could tell the leaders about when she came home, and even signed the guest book in the front hall.

Just before she left, a trim maid appeared, looked a little startled when she saw Kathryn and inquired if there was anything she wanted. Kathryn explained her interest in Scouting and in Juliette Low's birthplace.

The only trouble was that the house she was in was not Juliette Low's birthplace. It was a private home in which Juliette Low had once lived. I don't think the Council ever did hear the details of how Kathryn got out of predicament. They were laughing too hard.

They were still laughing last night. And no wonder. That's the sort of an experience you have in nightmares, but it could only happen in real life to one in a million.

News Breaks At Barrett PTA Meeting

Barrett — The members of the Parent Teachers Association caught up on news of the Barrett Township School at their meeting held in the school auditorium on Wednesday, January 19. George Webb, supervising principal, outlined the activities ranging from the opening of an additional class room to the menus for the school lunches.

The school stage is being renovized. The school board has approved the purchase of cyclorama, which are ceiling-to-floor length drapes used to improve sound and lighting on stage, and are hung at the rear of the stage. The students, themselves, are contributing funds for new stage scenery. The student council donated $100; the four upper classes each donated $25 for the scenery.

The newly-finished classroom for a combined first and second grade was placed in operation on January 3, he announced, with Mrs. Sherwood Reese as teacher. Other items of interest to parents included the announcement that grade-level meetings will again be held between parents and teachers. The parents will also received copies of the menus for the school lunch room covering each two week period.

Mid-year examinations will be held January 27 and 28, and school will be dismissed at 12:30 p.m. on January 28.

Coming special events include the minstrel show to be given by the senior class, and an Easter program to be presented by the first three grades of the elementary school on April 6. The school gymnasium will also be the site of a March of Dimes Dance to be sponsored by the Pocono Mountain Rotary on Wednesday, January 26.

The plans for the Mothers March on Polio were outlined by Miss Marie Brown, chairman, and Mrs. Lulu Harvey, both members of the Stroudsburg Business and Professional Woman's Club. Miss Brown, announcing that Barrett was the only local community without a Polio fund chairman, made an appeal for a volunteer chairman and workers. A film on polio, starring Helen Hayes, was shown.

The meeting was also marked by the presentation to President Webb of 12 Bibles and a new flag for the school, the gift of the PO of A and the POS of A of Mountainhome. Mrs. Mae McKenney and Mrs. Ruth Everett made the presentation.

Mrs. Erwin Shinnen reported on the Clothing Exchange which the PTA expects to sponsor some time in April. Gordon Guthrie's sixth grade received the attendance award of $2.50 for having the most parents present.

After the meeting, refreshments were served in the home economics room. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, February 16. Forrest Evans, local Forester, will show a State Forestry film.

Aux. Chairmen Present Plans For Coming Year

The dust caps worn by the members of the panel which spoke at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian church gave a clue to the topic of their discussion "Putting Our House in Order for 1955".

The meeting was held on Wednesday night at the home of Miss Ruth Miller, Marshalls Creek and opened with devotions led by Mrs. Carl Vaughn. Mrs. John Richards, program chairman, served as moderator of the panel which included the four major committees of the organization: fellowship, represented by Mrs. John Baymore; spiritual life and stewardship, Mrs. Mahlon Hallett; world service, Mrs. Ray Mosler; and program, Mrs. Richards.

After the initial laughter caused by the dust caps, the panel members got down to the serious business at hand which was a presentation of the program and plans for the year of each committee. Future plans of the auxiliary include a chicken supper to be served on February 17 at the Marshalls Creek firehall with a parcel post and apron sale as special features.

Following the meeting and program, refreshments were served by the hostesses: Miss Miller, Mrs. John Baymore and Mrs. Alvin DeWitt Jr.

Circle Hears U. Luncheon Report of Japan

A first hand account of Thursday's luncheon in New York City for the International Christian University near Tokyo, Japan, was given yesterday by Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff to the members of the Marie Capelli Circle of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The circle meeting, the first since the re-assignment of members, was held at the home of chairman, Mrs. Clifford Heller, Thomas Street, and began with a dessert at 1:30.

In her talk, Mrs. Wyckoff told of the purpose of the luncheon to arouse interest in the University, which is an inter-denominational project. Chief speaker at the luncheon was Elizabeth Gray Vining, author of the book "Jewels for the Crown Prince," and a former tutor to the Crown Prince of Japan.

Mrs. Vining not only told of her experiences in Japan but also of the visit of the Crown Prince to her home in Philadelphia during his visit to this country last year. She was a charming speaker, Mrs. Wyckoff reported, and told of some of the other outstanding women who were present at the luncheon.

Mrs. Russell Harmon led the devotions at the meeting, and Mrs. Wyckoff outlined for the new members the life of Marie Capelli for whom the circle is named. Miss Capelli retired last year after 50 years of service to the protestant mission at Martin's Creek and is now living in Easton.

Mrs. Edward Stevens will serve as treasurer of the circle, Mrs. Robert Schell as secretary, and Mrs. Wyckoff as study leader, Mrs. Heller announced. Mrs. Robert Brown assisted as hostess.

Colleen Cook Celebrates First Birthday

Colleen Lee Cook was one year old on Thursday, January 20. She is the daughter of June Ramsberger Cook, formerly of Mountain home and Edward H. Cook of Harrisburg. They are now living in New Kensington, where Mr. Cook is employed as a chemist at the Alcoa Aluminum Co.

Colleen is the first grandchild of John F. Ramsberger and great-granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Baker.

Portland PTA To Discuss Behavior

Portland — The Parent Teachers Association of the Portland School will consider "Conduct and Behavior" at the January meeting to be held next Thursday night in the school gymnasium.

The discussion will take up the problems of conduct and behavior in many situations: at home, visiting friends, on the street, shopping, in public buildings on the playgrounds and doing homework. They will also study the school program in education for home and family living, illustrating the points with film strips.

New Prayer Room At Capitol Outgrowth Of Quiet Weekly Prayer Meeting Breakfasts

By Jane Eads

Washington—Attention is currently focussed on the new prayer room being readied for use of members of Congress in the Capitol for moments of quiet meditation and there is much talk of a religious revival here.

But some members of Congress have gathered quietly at weekly prayer meeting breakfasts at the Capitol since 1941 to "ponder ways and means of living amid the world's problems in a manner acceptable to God."

Though they shun publicity, at least 35 senators meet each Wednesday in the Vandenberg Room, and more than 60 members of the House in the House restaurant on Thursdays.

These meetings will continue, since the prayer room is not to be devoted to services of any kind. The room is awaiting installation of a stained glass window, a gift of a Los Angeles firm and its workmen.

The senators' prayer group was formed under the leadership of Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis). The house group was organized by Rep. Ralph Gwinn (R-NY). The idea for the prayer meeting clubs started in 1933, in Seattle Wash. and has snowballed throughout the United States and many other countries.

In Washington there are now 15 groups. In addition to the ones on Capitol Hill, there are groups at the Pentagon and the State Department and a diplomatic group.

The groups function under International Christian Leadership which is an interdenominational organization. Princess Wilhelmina of the Netherlands is honorary president of the International Council and Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) is president. Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), is a vice president, along with Gustav Gedat of the Bonn Reichstag and John Henderson of the British Parliament. Lt. Gen. Willard Paul (ret.) of Washington, is president of the national group.

Members of the executive committee include Senators Flanders (R-Vt), Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Sparkman (D-Ala) and representatives Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) and Walter Judd (R-Minn), Abraham Vereide of Washington, is executive director.

PTA Frames Questions On Jointure

The proposed jointure of six school districts including East Stroudsburg, will be studied from a grass-roots beginning by the East Stroudsburg Parent Teachers Association. At their meeting at the junior high school on Monday night, Supervising Principal Carl Secor laid the ground work for the study by explaining the difference between union districts, jointure and merger.

The members of the PTA, assigned numbers as they arrived, were divided into ten groups. The groups met individually to frame questions concerning the proposal. These questions will be answered at the next PTA meeting.

President Elston Arnt was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Eugene Martin's homeroom won the attendance room-count. David Miller introduced Secor.

Miss Marie Brown showed a film on polio, starring Helen Hayes. After the meeting, refreshments were served by the home room mothers.

Intelligence Officer Faces Dismissal

be given an opportunity to defend himself before a board of senior officers in a proceeding which could result in his discharge from the service under other than honorable conditions. He may select an attorney of his own choice to represent him.

The hearing is an administrative procedure and does not constitute a court-martial. If the board decides to retain Hayes in the service, an Air Force spokesman said, that would settle the case. If the board should decide against Hayes, then the case would go to the Air Force secretary's Personnel Council for review. If the board's decision should be upheld by the council, then the case would go to Secretary Talbott for final decision.

Miss Schmidt pleaded guilty to obtaining military secrets from two U. S. Intelligence officers for Communist pay. The names of the officers were not introduced in court.

She had been described by American officials earlier as the mistress of a U. S. Air Force Intelligence colonel.

One piece of information the girl admitted transmitting to the Russians contained details of the order of battle for Allied defense of West Berlin.

She was caught after she aroused suspicions of a German suitor who worked in another American security office.

The Air Force announcement today said an exhaustive investigation had disclosed no evidence that Hayes or any other member of the Air Force had given any classified information to Miss Schmidt, either intentionally or unintentionally.

It also stated that Hayes returned to the United States several months before the occurrence of the events which led to the trapping of the German girl.

Air Force records show that Hayes is married but has no children. His wife was listed as Mrs. Mary Bonner Hayes, formerly of Scranton. A woman who answered the telephone at his home said the colonel was out and she did not know when he would return.

The brunette Miss Schmidt, a former student in the Russian-occupied East zone of Germany, was arrested Dec. 1 when American agents caught her as she was about to deliver secret material to her Soviet bosses in East Berlin.

In a plea for leniency, her German lawyer said she had been reared first under Nazism and then under communism in the Russian zone and had been forced into espionage work by the Russians.

Tighter Race Curbs Ordered

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Jan. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom's government embarked today on a new campaign to curb the authority of the nation's courts over Parliament and trim the voting rights of 50,000 colored (mixed blood) voters in Cape province.

The government's program—including proposals for even tighter racial segregation controls—was disclosed in a speech read by Gov. Gen. E. G. Jansen when he opened the third session of the Union's 11th Parliament. Such speeches are written by the government.

The Nationalist party, which Strijdom leads, has been trying for more than two years to cut the voting rights of the coloreds, who had been backing opposition candidates and influencing the outcome of races for about eight parliamentary seats. In the past the Nationalists have proposed the coloreds be limited to sending four representatives to Parliament.

The appeal court has ruled that this can be accomplished constitutionally only with a two-thirds majority of the Senate and House sitting jointly—a majority which Strijdom's Nationalists presently lack.

Today the government served notice it will ask Parliament to enact legislation placing the government authority beyond the challenge of the courts—a move which would have the effect of depriving the courts of their law-testing powers.

J. R. Stetler, Stroudsburg Native, Dies

FOUNTAIN HILL—An active businessman and sportsman of the Nazareth area, James R. Stetler Jr., 40, of Nazareth, died yesterday at St. Luke's Hospital here. He was a native of Stroudsburg and had been admitted to the hospital Monday as a surgical patient.

The former Pen Argyl High football star served with the Seabees during World War Two. He was a member of the Kenneth S. Bowers Post 4366, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Harold V. Knecht Post 415, American Legion of Nazareth. He was also a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Jacksonian Democratic Club of Nazareth. The deceased was also active with the Vigilant Hose Co.

Mr. Stetler operated his own cleaning business in Nazareth. He was born in Stroudsburg in 1915, the son of Mrs. Ethel Richardson Stetler Mengel and the late James R. Stetler Sr.

His wife, the former Lena A. Millheim, died in 1949. He also lived in Wind Gap prior to taking residence in Nazareth. Stetler was interested in all sports and took part in considerable hunting and fishing. He was a former member of Lehman's Rod & Gun Club.

Surviving are his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mengel, three daughters, Anna Ethel, Nina Jean and Lena, all of Nazareth; one sister, Mrs. Virginia Elke, of East Stroudsburg; a brother, S/Sgt. George of the U. S. Army in Japan; and one niece.

Military funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the F. W. Schmidt Mortuary at Nazareth.

Convicts Free 11 Hostages

committee," Canham said, "and the answer is the four convicts."

Serving with Canham were, the Rev. Edward F. Hartigan, Catholic chaplain; the Rev. Howard Kellett, Protestant chaplain; Dr. Samuel A. Merlin; Sumner H. Babcock, president of the Boston Bar Assn., governor's councillor Patrick J. McDonough, and the Rev. John J. Grant, associate editor of The Pilot, Catholic archdiocesan weekly in Boston.

The siege ended just short of 82 hours. The record for a prison uprising of this nature is 100 hours—set in 1952 at Jackson, Mich.

The outburst started early Tuesday morning when the four convicts sawed the way out of their cells and seized the guards after failing to escape with the aid of a makeshift ladder.

The guards who were held as hostages are:

Eugene Wills, 40, who was ill and was treated by Dr. Merlin during the siege; Warren L. Harrington, 29; Martin F. Mulkern, 25; Thomas D. Ryan, 25, and Gerard Kadlick, 28.

The rebels made things quite comfortable for the committee during the negotiations. When the committee members arrived at the cell block where the convicts were holed up they found the facilities something akin to a board of directors' meeting.

Canham said: "We found a most amazing scene—11 chairs in a neat circle with a table in the center and a pad and pencils—facilities for a well organized conference. I was impressed more than I can say by the spokesman for the convicts—Joe Flaherty."

Flaherty is editor of the prison paper.

The committeemen related that Green, named at the outset as the ringleader in the revolt, wept during the negotiations. The bank robber was quoted as telling the mediators:

"I know the bad things I have done in my life. I would hope to do something good before I die—such as give my eyes so some child might see."

On Wednesday he had turned down the personal plea of his own daughter, Barbara, 17, to surrender.

Pentagon Drops Enforcement Provision In Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Defense Department disclosed today it has dropped plans to seek congressional authority for an enforcement provision in President Eisenhower's military reserve training program.

As submitted to Congress last Thursday, the President's program called for giving other than honorable discharges to men failing to meet their reserve training obligations, with the result that they could be denied veterans' benefits and other privileges.

This enforcement provision was omitted from proposed legislation submitted to Congress by the Pentagon today. A Defense Department official told a reporter, in response to inquiries, that it might prove too complicated to incorporate in the law and he said an attempt would be made to restore it by administrative action later.

Left intact was a provision affecting youths of 17-19 who volunteer for six months training under the proposed 100,000 yearly quota system. If these men failed to meet training requirements they could be called up for active duty for an additional 18 months.

Spelled out today were details of the President's plan to set up a ready reserve of about 2,950,000 men taking regular training and a standby reserve of some two million veterans who would be called only in event of a general mobilization.

A flexible handling of the reserve training program was outlined at a special meeting of the American Council on Education meanwhile by Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Flemming told the educators that "present thinking" in the defense establishment "is that as far as possible the training program should be related to the actual job in the armed forces."

There may be no rigid requirement that every man in the reserve would have to attend two hours of drill and instruction weekly and two weeks of summer camp, Flemming said.

He suggested, for example, that if a man is assigned as a truck driver his annual duty requirement might be fulfilled by 30 days of summer camp and no weekly drill.

In the case of people with technical skills, he said, the problem is to maintain a constant level of competence in that field and instruction might not be necessary weekly but at more widely spaced periods such as every other week.

Carter L. Burgess, assistant secretary of defense told the educators that the college deferment program would continue to operate as at present. He added that youths who entered college ROTC units as enlisted reservists would be fulfilling their required reserve duty and would receive commissions upon graduation.

A subcommittee of the council said it was not prepared yet to take a stand for or against the manpower proposals until more details are available.

The council is composed of the heads of various colleges and universities and education associations.

Stock Market Wipes Out Week's Loss

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP) — The stock market finished the week with a flourishing rally today.

The market broke heavily last Monday, and in the next four sessions it recovered all of that loss.

Aircrafts were a strong feature of today's vigorous recovery drive. They were joined by the steels, oils, railroads, rubbers, and a number of individual gainers.

Traders have been standing on the sidelines all week to see what the market intended to do. Today when the advance got rolling, they rushed in to buy with such enthusiasm that volume pushed higher than the day before for the first time this week. It came to 2,690,000 shares compared with 2,210,000 shares traded yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.20 at $152.30, exactly where it was at the end of last week. The industrial component of the average was up $1.70, railroads were better by $1.40, while the utilities remained unchanged.

There were 1,217 individual issues traded of which 662 were higher and 314 lower with 79 new highs and 1 new low for 1954-55 touched.

The American Stock Exchange was largely higher on volume of 1,150,000 shares as compared with a million shares traded yesterday.

Higher were Calvan Consolidated Oil, Electric Bond & Share, Imperial Oil, Molybdenum, New Jersey Zinc, and United Aircraft products. Lower were Consolidated Mining, Creole Petroleum, A & P, and Standard Oil (Ky).

The bond market was steady. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were unchanged to lower.

Stout Funeral Services Held

THE FUNERAL of Mrs. Fannie A. Stout of Pocono Lake was held yesterday at the Gantzhorn funeral home with Rev. Clyde Levergood officiating.

Burial was in the Pocono Lake Cemetery. The pallbearers were Emory, William, Forrest, David, Harold and Clifford Stout, all sons of the family.

"Dress Me Up Pretty," Says Brave Little Girl, Then Dies

DALLAS, Jan. 21 (AP)—"Dress me up pretty, grandma. Make me a pony tail."

Grandma did, and in a little while 4-year-old Anita Rae Bartlett was dead.

Anita Rae was the courageous Dallas tot who could smile, dance and sing through nearly all of an 8-month illness with cancer.

She died today in a clinic. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bartlett, and her grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Barbee, took her to the clinic last midnight when the child's heart weakened.

Even near the end, semiconscious, Anita Rae was brave. "Dress me up pretty, grandma," she whispered as they prepared to leave for the clinic.

What impressed visitors was Anita Rae's cheerfulness. She was never told she was doomed, but she knew she was sick.

Last Christmas—moved up two weeks because her parents feared she might not live until Dec. 25—she was growing weaker. But her eyes shone as she inspected presents, cards and letters sent by well-wishers.

Newspaper stories brought Anita Rae hundreds of letters from many countries. A few days ago, Marines stationed at the American Embassy in Vienna sent the brown-haired girl $50.

"Keep fighting," they wrote.

Estranged Woman Turns Self Into Gasoline-Soaked Torch

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21 (AP)—An explosion shook a section of the Wilshire district today, and firemen later found the charred body of a wealthy woman believed to have committed suicide by turning herself into a gasoline-soaked torch.

The body of Mrs. Yetta Weisstein, 57, a heart patient estranged from her husband, was found in a sitting position in a second-floor hall closet. Police said the $40,000 home had been saturated with gasoline but flames were confined to the closet.

Police listed the death as probable suicide pending an autopsy.

Officers said they learned she had worried over her heart condition and domestic difficulties.

Mrs. Weisstein was wearing bedroom slippers and a nightgown. At her feet were two empty gasoline cans. Beside her hand was a small box of matches.

Police Capt. M. A. Stephenson said she apparently had poured gasoline on floors of the downstairs living room, the bedrooms and the halls and on the stairs. A bed sheet, saturated with gasoline and tied to the second-floor balcony, hung to the floor below.

"It was probably meant to serve as a wick to carry the fire from the upstairs to the floor below," Stephenson said.

The husband, Julius, 61, insurance broker, said he left home yesterday "after 15 years of domestic strife." He said his wife had threatened suicide and wanted to be cremated.

There were 4,060,000 babies born in the United States in 1954, setting a new record.

Andrew's Beauty Salon, Mt. Pocono will be closed until Monday, Feb. 14.—Adv.

Fluorination To Be Discussed

DR. A. J. Harlacher will be the speaker at Exchange Club meeting Monday night.

The meeting is slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner. It will be held in East Stroudsburg Methodist Church basement.

Dr. Harlacher's topic will be the fluorination of water, a process which chemically treats water. It is believed to be a tooth decay preventive.

Bangor Retains DLW Watchman

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today denied a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Co. proposal to substitute automatic flashing signals for part-time watchmen at its Washington Street grade crossing in Bangor.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

MANY PROFESSIONAL basketball fans in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg missed the Rochester Royals, an annual National Basketball Association power. The pro cagers spent Wednesday night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. The Royals came in from Hershey late Wednesday night and left for Pittsfield, Mass., where they were booked for an exhibition, Thursday at 10:30 a. m. Bobby Davies, veteran member of the Royals, is familiar with this area as he plays in at least one golf tournament each summer at Shawnee Inn and Country Club.

Tom Patton, a member of the Williams' Pharmacy basketball team in the Pocono Mountains League, is a farm hand of the New York Yankees and departs for Florida next month. Patton recently became a resident of the Tobyhanna area. As of now he is listed as a shortstop and scheduled to play triple "A" ball next season. Ted Evanish, former soccer star at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is now teaching social studies at Moscow High.

The football setup will almost definitely be changed at Stroudsburg High next season, although no official announcements have been made. The change will be brought about partially by the addition of Junior High School football. It will be the first Junior High football ever played in Stroudsburg. This column is pleased to see that East Stroudsburg is working on junior basketball and football plans. The right time to learn athletics is when an individual is young.

Pocono Mountains and surrounding areas received more publicity through sports when Ralph "Tiger" Jones surprised the boxing world with a solid decision over Sugar Ray Robinson on Wednesday. Jones trained for this fight at Harry's Farm, area training camp. Speaking of publicity brings to mind the fact that the recent Stroudsburg-Palmerton basketball game was well covered by the Associated Press. The story hit many papers throughout the United States and appeared in virtually everyone of the New York and Philadelphia dailies.

Palmerton High has a good basketball team and the Bombers may go on to win the Lehigh Valley League championship. But it is this reporter's opinion that last year's Slatington squad was the better of the two. Slatington won the District 11 title last season. Tom Metzgar, a member of the Stroudsburg High basketball varsity, narrowly missed serious injury recently when he stuck his hand through a window.

Sally Fansler's team recently dislodged Joyce Pedersen's keglers from third place in the Skittler's Bowling League by winning three straight games. The Fansler squad won the first game by one pin, the second by two pins and the third game by a total of three pins. Ray Welsh once coached a high school team that was involved in a "freeze" vs. zone defense situation. Ray's team led by a 1-0 count at the end of the first half and went on to score a 15-14 nod over the league leading quintet.

Stroudsburg has added four Junior High basketball games to its original schedule. There will be two with Slatington and a pair with Pen Argyl. The first Slatington contest will take place a week from today at 10 a. m., on the Stroudsburg court. The second Stroudsburg-Slatington tussle is listed for Saturday, February 5, a Saturday night, at Slatington. The game at Slatington's Smith Hall is a preliminary contest for a big "booster" night celebration.

Wayne Pysher will be back in the Bangor basketball lineup again next week. He has been fitted with a plastic face mask to protect an injury and to guard against damage to plastic surgery performed last summer. Pysher had his original mask broken in a recent game with Wilson Borough and has been on the sidelines ever since. Wilson Borough was without its two top stars when the charges of Coach Sam Russell lost to Parkland the other night. Russell is a former Stroudsburg High basketball mentor.

The first half set-shot from midcourt by Stroudsburg's Francis "Sonny" Dieber against Palmerton last Tuesday was the longest shot that found the range at the W. Main St. court this season. Dave Nevil, prior to the Palmerton game, had averaged 22.1 points a contest in league play. Dick Little's average was 14 points per battle and Doug Shook averaged 11.3 a contest.

East Stroudsburg Quintet Edges Bangor High, 77-60

Cavaliers Finish In Seventh Place

BANGOR — East Stroudsburg rolled to its second Lehigh-Northampton Basketball League victory of the current campaign last night by taking the measure of Bangor, 77-60, here on the losing squad's home boards.

The Cavaliers, in winning their final first half outing, finished in the number seven spot in the standings. Bangor wound up as the number eight club on the list. The two arch foes were deadlocked with one win and six defeats prior to the contest.

East Stroudsburg opened a lead in the first period and held the upper hand remainder of the distance, although Bangor had the better of the scoring in the final eight minutes of play, 20-17.

The Cavaliers, with Bob "Red" Kupiszewski leading the way, went into a 16-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and were in front at the halfway mark, 40-25. The visiting team had the better of the going in the second stanza, 24-15.

East Stroudsburg, still demonstrating winning basketball, picked up 20 points in the third round, while holding Bangor to 15. The pupils of Coach Dick Forster were on the long end of a 60-40 count going into the last quarter.

The visiting forces held a one-sided 28-18 edge in field goals, while making good on 21 of 31 foul shots. Bangor converted 24 of 37 charity tosses.

Kupiszewski led the victory parade with 20 points, while the two Bills, Pensyl and Sommers, aided the cause with 12 tallies each. Don Keat, Bangor forward, was the game's individual scoring star with 22 counters. Duane Miller accounted for 12 and Art "Bucky" Parsons added 11.

Bangor gained a measure of revenge by winning the junior varsity clash between the two schools, 52-48. Dale Metzgar scored 19 points for Eastburg and Ed Trayes had the same number for the Slaters.

Musial Inks $80,000 Pact

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—"The Man" Musial joined roommate Red Schoendienst in a $120,000 St. Louis Cardinal contract signing ceremony today, confident he can equal Honus Wagner's record of eight National League batting crowns.

The 34-year-old six-time National League batting champion, happy with his fifth straight $80,000 contract, said he thinks he is "capable of four more good seasons and one or two more batting titles."

Schoendienst and Musial, probably the highest-priced roommates in baseball, have lived together on the road since 1947 but this is the first time they've signed together.

Eastburg Junior High Downs Stroudsburg Yearlings, 35-20

EAST STROUDSBURG High School registered its second basketball victory of the current campaign yesterday when the Cavaliers won over Stroudsburg, 35-20, in a little "Battle of the Boroughs." The contest was played on the winning squad's home boards.

The loss was the second of the season for Stroudsburg, a team that has also won two games. East Stroudsburg has suffered one setback to date.

Stroudsburg held a 7-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, but the East Stroudsburg pupils of Coach Mike Evans came from behind with a strong second period and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance.

The Cavaliers held a 10-4 edge in the second round and enjoyed a 14-11 advantage at the halfway mark.

East Stroudsburg, with Evan Reese, Jim Kindrew and Charley Lupin leading the way, went on to win with an 11-8 edge in the third round and a 10-1 advantage in the final round.

The host team substituted freely during the last quarter.

East Stroudsburg held a 15-9 edge in field goals and made good on seven of 17 free throws. Stroudsburg's foul shooting record was four conversions in 21 attempts.

Stroudsburg has won over Belvidere and Lehighton and has lost to Blairstown and East Stroudsburg. The Cavaliers have defeated Lehighton and Stroudsburg and lost to Pocono.

Honesdale Falls Before Greene-Dreher

NEWFOUNDLAND — Greene-Dreher-Sterling High evened its Wayne County Basketball Conference record at two wins and the same number of defeats last night by taking the measure of Honesdale, 61-37.

The Stags were in command all the way after rolling up a 22-9 verdict in the opening stanza.

Greene-Dreher went on to dominate the second round, 13-9, and then make certain of victory with margins of 12-9 and 14-10 in the last two periods.

The home forces dominated the field goal department, 23-10, and converted 15 of 31 free throws. The Hornets converted 17 of 29 foul shots.

Honesdale's loss was its seventh straight of the campaign.

Henry "Hank" Olsommer and John Manhart paced the winning attack with 21 and 15 points respectively, while Jerry Seibert and Coburn Eastman tallied 11 and 10 markers each for Honesdale.

Greene-Dreher also won the junior varsity contest, but it was by a narrow 32-30 score.

Santee Wins Mile Grind

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21 (AP) — Cowboy Wes Santee, America's premier hope for the four-minute mile, ran away from the pack tonight to win the mile-run in a relatively slow 4:10.5 in the Philadelphia Inquirer Games.

Santee, making his Eastern indoor debut, dueled with Gunnar Nielsen, the Danish pressman, until he had only one lap to go.

Basilio Earns Unanimous Verdict Over Mueller

By JACK HAND

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP) Carmen Basilio, the number one welter contender, gave Germany's Pete Mueller a savage body pounding tonight to win a unanimous 10-round decision and move closer to a tentative April 1 title date with champion Johnny Saxton. Basilio weighed 152, Mueller 157.

Both fighters were gashed around the left eye in the heavy brawling as a sellout crowd at the War Memorial Auditorium howled at the action.

Basiolio's more accurate left hook to the head and body gave him the winning margin over the rough and tough "Clown of Cologne" who was a 3 to 1 underdog.

A stunning left hook by Basilio left the dazed Mueller sitting on the ropes near the end of the fifth round. As Mueller swayed on the ropes and looked across the ring, Referee Harry Kessler started to count. Although Mueller came out of it and strolled to his corner, he had to take the compulsory eight-count.

The big crowd of 8,800 that paid $35,899 to see the nationally televised bout, with Syracuse blacked out, roared in derision as Mueller entered the ring, but at the end they cheered his game effort.

Two of the three officials scored it a lopsided fight. Referee Kessler voted 7-2-1 and Judge Harold Barnes 8-1-1 for Basilio. Judge Jack Kimball, the only local official, had it 6-4 in favor of Basilio. The Associated Press had Basilio on top 6-3-1.

The clowning German didn't have too much change to gag it up as Basilio drummed away at his body with both hands. He did wave his glove at the Canastota, N. Y. welter and nod his head in greeting after taking a hook to the head in the second.

At the end of the seventh, he pretended to escort Basilio to his corner after a round in which both of the 27-year-old fighters suffered eye cuts.

Mike DeJohn, 194¼, Syracuse, N. Y., dropped Jack Jacobs, 190, New York, in the first and fourth rounds for nine counts on the way to a decision in a sloppy six-round match.

Charley Chase, 164, Massena, N. Y., stopped Luigi Cemulini, 162½, Buffalo, at the end of the second round of a scheduled six. Chase was down in the first but Cemulini suffered a severe cut over his left eye, forcing the doctor to stop the contest.

Gale Kerwin, 138, Valley Stream, N. Y., and Ottawa, stopped William Jones, 140, Allentown, Pa., in 44 seconds of the fifth round of a scheduled six rounder.

Stroudsburg Dumps Emmaus

Mountaineers Win Second League Game

STROUDSBURG High snapped a three game basketball losing streak last night by sailing to a 70-56 victory over Emmaus in a Lehigh Valley League tussle before a large crowd at the former's home gymnasium.

The Mountaineers, even in victory, were forced to overcome a 6-2 disadvantage early in the ball game to roll to their second win in four circuit outings.

Emmaus jumped off quick to a 6-2 lead, but two straight field goals from the corner by Dave Nevil evened the count and Doug Shook put Stroudsburg in front for keeps with a two-pointer from underneath the basket.

Shook's work on the offensive back board and Stroudsburg's tight zone defense kept the visiting five on its heels through the first two quarters. The Mountaineers were in front at the end of the first period, 24-10, and then battled the outsized, but never outgamed, Emmaus crew on even terms in the second stanza, 14-14.

Stroudsburg adjourned to the dressing room at halftime on the long end of a 38-24 count.

Dick Little found the scoring range with his leaping one-handers in the third period and paced the Mountaineers to 18 markers, while Emmaus was limited to 13. Stroudsburg, using substitutes for a great portion of the fourth round, finished on the short end of a 19-14 count during the last eight minutes of play.

Francis "Sonny" Dieber's driving layups and Don Deibler's shots from the foul line kept the Emmaus defense loose throughout the contest. Dieber suffered a wrenched back in the first period and was forced from the game. He returned to action at the beginning of the second half and departed for a sub late in the fourth stanza

Shook led the Stroudsburg scoring attack with 18 points, while Dave Nevil was right on his tail with 17 markers Little and Dieber each assisted with 10 Shook scored four field goals and made good on 10 of 15 foul shots before fouling out of action in the third quarter Little fouled out in the fourth.

Dan Sachs, John Myers and Ronnie Miller were the big guns for Emmaus with 15, 13 and 11 tallies respectively Miller also played a brilliant floor game and his efforts kept the green and white in the ball game.

The Mountaineers held a 21-18 edge in field goals and made good on 28 of 44 foul shots. Emmaus hit the target on 20 of 42 free throws, as a total of 86 charity tosses took place in the game.

Emmaus partially balanced the scales with a 42-34 nod in the junior varsity encounter.

Bolt Leads Golf Field

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 21 (AP)—Texas' Tommy Bolt gave par another good spanking today and finished the midway mark of the $15,000 San Diego Open golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 131 and a four-stroke lead over his nearest rivals.

Playing the Mission Valley Country Club's 6,706-yards of flat, windy acres, the 34-year-old Bolt added a 5-under par 67 to his pace setting 64 of yesterday. Par is 36-36—72.

Tied with McGuire were Jack Burke Jr., with his second straight 69; slender Bud Holscher and Doug Ford, each with 70s.

Eight shots off the Bolt pace were Art Wall Jr., Ted Kroll, John Barnum, Johnny Palmer and Bill Ogden.

Coolbaugh Keeps Hold On Number One Spot With Cage Verdict Over Pocono High, 62-35

TANNERSVILLE — Coolbaugh maintained its one-game jump on the remainder of the Monroe County League last night by scoring a 62-35 basketball victory over Pocono, here on the latter's home hardwood.

Coolbaugh, coasting along with six victories and only one setback, roared into a 10-point advantage at the end of the first period and was never in trouble the remainder of the distance.

The visiting pupils of Coach Don Wismer never let up for a moment as they had the better of the going in the second stanza, 18-6, and led at halftime, 35-13.

It was the same story in the third period as the green and white clad visitors had the better of the going, 25-11. Pocono rallied in the final period, but its 11-2 advantage wasn't nearly enough to change the complexion of the contest.

Coolbaugh doubled the field goal output on Pocono, 26-13, and made good on 10 of 14 charity tosses. Pocono converted nine of 16 free throws.

Bob Sapp, despite a heavy cold, racked up 31 points in a winning cause, while Jim Kinsley added 13 and Bob Champney 10.

Poconos big point producer was Wagner, who tallied 12 counters.

In the junior varsity contest Pocono rolled to a 43-22 victory.

Chestnuthill Takes Measure Of TTHS

POCONO PINES — Chestnuthill High kept its championship hopes alive last night with a 70-4 verdict over Tobyhanna Township High in a Monroe County Basketball League game played on the latter's home floor.

Chestnuthill, currently deadlocked for second place with Barrett, used a strong second half to earn its fifth win in seven circuit outings.

TTHS, playing some of its best basketball of the season, made it tough for Chestnuthill throughout the first half.

Chestnuthill led 18-16 at the end of the opening period and by a 29-28 count at halftime. TTHS had the better of the going in the second stanza, 12-11.

The visiting contingent, using a special defense to at least partially halt the high scoring antics of Willard Costanzo, pulled away in the second half by piling up an 18-4 bulge in the third period and a 23-12 advantage in the final quarter.

Chestnuthill, featuring Dick Kreger with 31 points and Dick Bizousky with 20, had the better of the field goal department, 27-15. The visiting squad made good on 16 of 22 charity tosses, while TTHS found the range on 14 of 25 foul shots.

The Costanzo brothers led the TTHS offense by combining for 30 of the losing team's 44 points.

Chestnuthill also won the junior varsity struggle between the two foes, 29-15.

Barrett Rallies In Second Half To Defeat Polk, 48-43

KRESGEVILLE—Barrett High School remained in the thick of the Monroe County Basketball League pennant race last night with a thrilling 48-43 victory over Polk, here on the losing squad's home boards.

Barrett, tied for second place with Chestnuthill, was forced to fight from behind in the second half to earn the important victory.

Polk, featuring Ronnie and Sherwood Smith in another high scoring role, jumped off to an 18-10 advantage at the end of the first quarter. Barrett reduced its deficit by one point in the second period, but Polk was still on the long end of the score at halftime 28-21.

Barrett, directed by Joe Murray, moved into a 34-33 lead at the three-quarter mark by piling up a 13-5 advantage in the third round.

The Murraymen made certain of victory with a 14-10 advantage in a hotly contested fourth period.

Barrett outscored Polk from the floor, 16-15, and made good on 16 of 26 foul shots Polk converted 13 of 28 shots from the charity line.

Sherwood Smith was the game's big scorer with 22 points, while Ronnie Smith was next in line for the losing five with 14 counters.

Phil Price and Reed Gravel paced the winning attack with 15 and 12 markers respectively.

Barrett made a clean sweep of the program with a 45-15 victory in the junior varsity contest.

Bethlehem Trips Bangor Girls, 59-42

BETHLEHEM—Bethlehem High School inflicted the second East Penn Girls' Basketball League defeat of the season on the Bangor High lassies yesterday by a 59-42 tabulation. The game was played here on the winning school's home court.

The Slaters have been able to win only one league game thus far in the present campaign.

Kay Hughes and Mary Holland led the Bangor attack with 21 and 12 markers, respectively, while Bethlehem featured three cagers in double scoring figures.

Bethlehem moved in front early and never was troubled, as the host club outscored the visiting squad in three periods.

Bangor had the better of the scoring only in the third round when the Slaters picked up 14 points as compared to eight by Bethlehem.

The Slaters play Easton High, in Bangor, next Tuesday.

Mexican League Wins Recognition As Class 'AA' Circuit By National Baseball Association

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 21 (P)—The six-team Mexican League today won long-sought recognition by organized baseball as a class "AA" circuit.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said the league is the first composed of all foreign teams speaking a different language, to be admitted to the association.

Anuar Canavati, owner of the Monterrey Club and vice president of the league, gained recognition for the loop as a one-man delegation to Trautman's office. Trautman acted after an investigation by Bob Finch, promotional director for the minors, and an affirmative vote by the association executive committee on admissions made up of league presidents Tommy Richardson of the Eastern, Frank Shaughnessy of the International, and Howard Green of the Big State.

"This is the culmination of a great desire on the part of the Mexican League, and a recognition to which that league is entitled," Trautman said. "We are glad to have them with us."

Canavati said:

"My entire country will be pleased by our entry into organized baseball. It is a step we should have taken long ago. We would have better baseball now, had we acted sooner. Everyone down there is behind us — business men, civic leaders and the fans."

The present Mexican League has been after official recognition since 1948, following its reorganization after Jorge Pasquel's raid on American players.

Pasquel, president of the old Mexican League, lured several major league stars south of the border in 1946 with high salaries as bait. The "jumpers" included Sal Maglie, Danny Gardella and "Ace" Adams of the New York Giants; Mickey Owens and Luis Olmo of Brooklyn and Max Lanier, Fred Martin and Lou Klein of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pasquel's league was outlawed from organized baseball and folded in 1948 after heavy financial losses.

Canavati said he would fly home in about 10 days, after going to New York to invite Commissioner Ford Frick to attend the opening game between his Monterrey club and the Mexico City Reds April 14. The league had planned an 80-game season, but Trautman insisted on at least 100 games, so a five-games-a-week slate will be set up, ending August 28 and followed by Shaughnaessy playoffs.

The Mexican League has been in action since 1935, and has sent many stars into organized baseball, including Mike Garcia and Bobby Avila of the Cleveland Indians.

Two Cage Battles Listed

POCONO PINES — A Pocono Mountains Basketball League doubleheader will be held here on the Tobyhanna Township High School court tonight. The first encounter is listed for 7:15 p.m. and the second outing at approximately 8:30.

First game activity will pit Johnson's Diner against Williams' Pharmacy. The Pharmacy five has won three of six games while the Dinermen have taken the measure of two foes and have suffered four setbacks.

Lake Harmony and Barrett are listed for action in the nightcap. Barrett has won two of six games while Lake Harmony is currently tied for first place with Gray's Chevrolet and the Stroudsburg Poconos.

The Lake Harmony quintet will be attempting to take over sole possession of first place at the present time.

Army Names 12 Believed Held Captive

BERLIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—The U.S Army released today a list of a dozen Americans missing in the Berlin area in the last five years and speculated they could be in Russian labor camps.

The recent return from Soviet imprisonment of three long-missing Americans, has given rise to suggestions other missing Americans also may be alive in the same plight.

One of the three recent returnees from Soviet concentration camps, John H. Noble of Detroit, said he heard while in Russia that eight fliers aboard a U.S. Navy Privateer shot down over the Baltic by the Russians in 1950 had survived and were being held in the U.S.S.R.

The other two Americans just out of Russian forced labor camps were Pvt. William A. Verdine of Starks, La., released here yesterday after six years of captivity, and Pvt. William T. Marchuk of Norristown, Pa., released two weeks ago with Noble and now in the guardhouse here facing a possible court martial. Verdine, undergoing hospitalization before interrogation, is under arrest until an inquiry has revealed the causes of his absence from his unit in West Germany in early 1949.

The 12 Americans missing from Berlin, in the list given out today include:

Pvt. Arthur Boyd Jr. Corona, New York City, missing Nov. 9, 1953.

Pvt. Francis F. Bunting, Barnesville, Ohio, since Sept. 9, 1952.

Pvt. George Stabley, R.F.D. 1, Jersey Shore, Pa., May 28, 1951.

Cohen Appoints Sullivan Deputy Attorney General

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—John Sullivan, Rosemont, Delaware County, today was named deputy attorney general to serve as coordinator between the governor's office, the Justice Department and the Legislature.

In making the appointment, Atty. Gen Herbert B. Cohen said Sullivan will also handle legal relations between Pennsylvania, other states and the U. S. government.

The deputy attorney general post carries a salary of $10,260 a year.

During the administration of Gov. George H. Earle, Sullivan handled the administration legislation program, later becoming head of the State civil rights bureau.

He was later appointed a Public Utility commissioner.

Scranton Youth Awarded Carnegie Medal For Helping To Save Boy From Drowning

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21 (AP) —A hero's medal was awarded posthumously today to a 16-year-old immigrant boy who sacrificed his life trying to save the lives of his school chums.

The bronze medal to John Minadeo of Pittsburgh was one of 14 awarded by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for heroism.

Another medal was awarded to David S. Jenkins, 15, of 1930 N. Main Ave., Scranton, Pa., for helping to save 15-year-old David H. Payne from drowning at Hop Bottom, Pa., on Aug. 1, 1954.

While swimming in Loomis Lake about 350 feet from shore, Payne submerged briefly in deep water. His calls for help attracted Jenkins who was helping push a capsized sailboat toward wadeable water.

Jenkins swam 225 feet through white-capped waves to reach Payne. After towing Payne 100 feet, Jenkins saw his 12-year-old sister approaching in a rowbot.

Making slow headway, Jenkins towed Payne 35 feet toward the boat. Because of the foot-high waves, Jenkins' sister was unable to get the boat alongside the pair and she drifted 30 feet beyond them. Retracing his course, Jenkins overtook the boat and helped Payne climb aboard.

They then rowed to shore. Both Jenkins and Payne were tired but recovered.

Young Minadeo was killed last Oct. 7 on a Pittsburgh street corner—struck by a runaway auto as he stretched out his arms to stop other youngsters from walking into the vehicle's path. He later was posthumously granted honorary citizenship.

Two others besides John died in performing their heroic acts.

The commission handed out $5,000 in cash awards to 11 of the heroes for educational or other worthy purposes.

A pension of $960 a year was granted in one case and a disablement benefit of $150 was granted in another.

John was killed by an auto whose brakes failed while going downhill. Steadily picking up speed it rolled toward an intersection where John was stationed as a member of the school safety patrol.

John didn't see the auto until it was almost upon the intersection. The vehicle swerved to avoid a stopped car, grazed a utility pole and hopped the curb.

John, directly in the path of the onrushing car, stretched out his arms to stop several children who were waiting to cross the street.

The vehicle struck John and two other girls and brushed three other girls. It then shot across the street and crashed into a utility pole. John and one of the girls were instantly killed. The other girl and the driver were seriously injured but recovered.

Last Nov. 11, Federal Dist. Judge Wallace S. Gourley posthumously made John an honorary citizen of the United States. The judge said:

"If I had the authority in law I would make him a citizen; but since there was no law, I went to the Bible and to the Gospel of St. John where it is written: 'Greater love than this no one has, than one lay down his life for his friend.'"

Communities Will Share Planning Aid

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP) — Pennsylvania's smaller cities this year will share a federal grant of at least $100,000 for community planning agencies.

The money will pay for technical aid in various types of planning programs and is available on a 50-50 basis with local planning groups matching the federal funds.

The subsidy is made available through either the State Planning Board at Harrisburg or directly from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency under a total five million dollar appropriation authorized under the Federal Housing Act of 1954.

The state board said between 30 and 40 communities already are considered as definite possibilities for obtaining the federal aid. About 100, all told, has shown interest, the board said.

Given top priority on the board's list of urgency is plans to prevent conditions likely to lead to formation of slums in rapidly developing urban areas.

Burgesses Paid Salaries In Majority Of Boroughs

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Fifty-four per cent of all Pennsylvania boroughs now provide salaries for their burgesses, the Department of Internal Affairs reported today.

(Two of the four boroughs in Monroe County pay salaries to the the burgesses and council members. The Stroudsburg burgess receives $1,000 a year, while the burgess in East Stroudsburg is paid $700 annually.

(Council members in both boroughs are paid $300 a year. The boroughs of Mount Pocono and Delaware Water Gap do not provide salaries for burgess or councilmen.)

The trend toward payment of officials who formerly acted without compensation was noted by Willard R. Hancock, director of the department's Bureau of Municipal Affairs, as a result of the growing complexity of government.

Under present laws, boroughs—ranging in population from 83 at Mt. Gretna, Lebanon County, to 38,126 at Norristown, are now required to pay their chief officeholders.

"Many people are offering many hours of their valuable time to serve in borough posts and are not getting a thing for it," said Hancock.

Because of heavier duties in recent years, however, more than half of the commonwealth's 942 boroughs now provide salaries for burgesses.

At the same time, those paying their borough councilmen have climbed to 26 per cent.

The statistics were compiled in a special study by James J. Loftus, a researcher for the Bureau of Municipal Affairs.

Under Pennsylvania law, a burgess may be paid up to $3,000 a year. The average, however, is $401 a year, Hancock reported.

One of the oddities of Pennsylvania local government is that 47 boroughs have a population of more than 10,000 and are thus eligible to become cities of the third class but choose to retain their borough form of government.

Seine River Rises Toward Flood Stage

PARIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Seine River, swollen by drainage water that included melted snow from the distant Alps, rose menacingly in Paris today. With the crest estimated still to be four days away, workmen began sandbagging its banks within the capital.

Firemen pumped 16 inches of water out of the basement of Notre Dame cathedral, which is located on an island in the Seine. American troops moved equipment to higher ground and emptied some of the U.S. installations on an island at the edge of Paris as a precautionary measure.

Fogs dotted part of Europe's weather map.

A convoy of 32 U.S. landing craft, bound for a point on the Gironde estuary north of Bordeaux for manevers, was scattered by swift waters amid a heavy fog early this morning. The convoy was safely accounted for after daylight.

Board Ousts Hospital Head

Hodges explained that the governor will telegraph the board approving its action, and that Shapiro would be given blanket approval to provide for whatever personnel is needed to operate the hospital "correctly."

Earlier in the day, Shapiro said at Philadelphia he received a large part of his information on the Allentown State Hospital condition from a report compiled by Dr. John E. Davis, director of the Eastern Psychiatric Institute, Philadelphia, and "from other sources."

"A number of other hospitals are doing a good job under the circumstances—mostly that they don't have enough funds to operate as they should," Shapiro said.

The new welfare secretary declined to discuss conditions at other mental institutions, adding:

"We'll get around to that later."

Shapiro in his first news conference yesterday cited the Davis report for his authority to criticize the "total lack of any program for treatment for children" who must stay at the Allentown hospital.

"When there is no attempt to correct or cure children until they can be put in with adults, or sent back to their original environment, a hospital is not carrying out the function for which it was created," Shapiro said.

The board met last night on Shapiro's request that it act to dismiss Dr. Goshorn or subject itself, Shapiro said, to dismissal by the new governor.

In another development Dr. Hilding A. Bengs, state mental health commissioner, who has been affiliated with the Commonwealth's mental health program for 22 years, said he had not been consulted by Shapiro in advance of the news conference yesterday.

Dr. Bengs, however, promised his full cooperation with his new secretary.

Leader Requests Cuts In Department Budgets

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21 (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader, in another phase of a concerted economy drive, today asked his department heads to cut budget requests to an absolute minimum.

Leader's fourth economy memorandum since his inauguration Tuesday hinted that outgoing Republican Cabinet members made heavy budgetary demands.

Leader said:

"The budget requests for the 1955-57 biennium were submitted to the budget office prior to my inauguration. Any examination of these requests by my fiscal advisors indicates that they should be reduced."

The governor said the revised budget requests must be submitted to him Feb. 10 and are to be substantiated with "adequate data to convince me and the members of the General Assembly of their necessity."

Leader's other economy directives asked new Cabinet officers to rescind salary boosts found to be unjustifiable, to cut 20 million dollars from the expiring Republican budget and to review contracts for building or equipment rentals for possible savings.

Constitution Change Urged By Miss Blatt

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21 (AP)—Genevieve Blatt, secretary-elect of internal affairs, pleaded tonight for a change in Pennsylvania's Constitution which she said "actually amounts to a strait jacket in many instances."

In a speech before the mid-winter meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Assn., Miss Blatt said she hopes the association "will not abandon its efforts" to revise the Constitution, adding:

"We must convince the people how much it is needed. Our sister state, New Jersey, has done it, largely through the leadership given by members of our profession."

Miss Blatt, who is to assume office May 3, was elected last November on the Democratic ticket headed by Gov. George Leader. She said the governor faces a "Herculean task" in his announced objective of reorganizing the state government because of the handicaps placed upon him by the present Constitution.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A few "clouds" on the horizon? Maybe. However, your attitude toward affairs, your behavior can dispel them if you will it. Difficulties are nature's order, too. Use logic.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Perhaps you need to brush up enthusiasm, inspiration? Make extra effort to coordinate best forces, yours and others. Day needs this assistance. Explain, act in careful manner.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Auspicious aspects on whole. There are some loose ends to tie up, aren't there? It's a better period than you may realize, so don't waste precious moments, nor assets.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Give up some personal pleasures for work and worthy causes, but do not overdo nor deprive self of the recreation necessary to help mind and vitality keep fit, cheerful.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—An uplift-sort day—IF you accept small benefits as the blessings they are. Shoulder obligations with light spirit. Recall the great Season and it's meaning just past; review your blessings.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Organize and assist, but be sure not to usurp the conversation, or direct without regarding others' opinions. Plan today to have a better-run week ahead. Spend money wisely.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Improvement in configurations, and you with good humor and keen perception can make a long-felt day of this one by your good use of the small things; by attitude.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—A good day for you in good spirit, and this can be so, no matter the "weather." Scorpio has much resourcefulness; keep a well-ordered busy mind. Step forward—SPIRITUALLY, mentally first.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Favorable combination of aspects, but you will have to employ your talents ably and restrict in some departments. Top period for helping others, assisting, understanding children.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Be not careless of "little" admonitions. Don't be timid following progressive ideas that have known merit. Devote some time to just plain friendliness. Meet all chin up.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Interviews, conferences, all moves for devising better methods and surer means are in order. Be not rushed nor unmindful of the advantage in others' suggestions. Rely upon prayer.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Practice habits that show the sort of results that make one feel justly proud. Haste in speech is often harmful as in act. Some irritation in air—don't pick it up.

YOU BORN TODAY: Will work hard, persistently for top goals. Naturally support worth while causes; are a cooperative individual if living true to the best in you. You have the saving grace of realizing without fuss that trials go along with life's benefits; can handle everyday tedious tasks matter-of-factly. But you may, for reasons unknown even to yourself become discouraged momentarily. Yet countering this is your high ambition to gain new ground, so you seldom stay "down" long. Good for you! Have recourse to prayer, believe in God's great goodness; work for high aims.

Reds Seeking To Exploit U. S. Impotence

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

STUDENTS of Red Chinese tactics have quickly classified Peiping's offer to permit visits by relatives of the imprisoned American fliers as merely another effort to demonstrate in Asia the impotence of the United States and the West.

Some United Nations delegates professed to see a possibility that, after demonstrating to relatives how well the prisoners were treated, the men would be released. This looked like whistling through the graveyard. It seemed obvious the prisoners would be released, if ever, only when the United States offered to pay a sufficient price.

What that price might be, no one knew now.

The principal U. N. reaction seemed to be that China was taking advantage of an original error, made when the United States first asked U. N. intervention despite the knowledge that the organization had nothing with which to trade.

The official Washington reaction, that relatives should not be encouraged to accept the Red invitation because the United States was in no position to protect them on such a trip, likewise was scouted by students of Red propaganda tactics. The Reds, they pointed out, would make a great play on their "humanitarian" attitude, and would take great pains to protect the visitors, if any.

No Americans have been granted passports for travel to Red China since 1949. A specific exception to general policy must be made by the State Department for any visit to an Iron Curtain country. The State Department, while obviously attempting to discourage the relatives from going, did not say immediately, however, that it would absolutely refuse. Many of the relatives felt however, that the discouragement was enough.

European Communist regimes have, in several cases, made much of appeals from relatives when releasing Westerners held in Russia and the satellites. In most instances, however, the basic reason has been a barter deal of some sort.

By their maneuvers the Peiping regime has now demonstrated that the West must deal with it, however determined it is to refuse diplomatic recognition and admission to the United Nations. It has demonstrated, by forcing the West to seek a cease-fire in the Formosa area, that the West has no intention of trying to return a Free Chinese government on the mainland in any foreseeable time, and that therefore there is de facto recognition of two Chinas.

In both cases the West is taking it on the chin and that's all there is to it.

Pearl Barlieb

Citizenship Award Won By Pearl Barlieb

PEARL Virginia Barlieb has been chosen to receive the good citizenship award of the Daughters of the American Revolution at East Stroudsburg High School.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barlieb, 256 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg.

A student in the school's academic course, she intends to continue her studies in college. She has been active in many school activities.

Among her activities are the following: the school chorus in grades 10, 11 and 12; served on the staff of "The Eastburger", student newspaper, as a junior; is now a staff member for the student yearbook on which she also worked as a sophomore; a member of Tri-Hi-Y in grades 10, 11 and 12 and worked with the junior class play last year.

The DAR award is made on the basis of "dependability, service, patriotism and leadership", according to Ralph O. Burrows, high school principal who announced the selection of Miss Barlieb yesterday afternoon.

The kangaroo family includes at least 158 species and subspecies of living animals and at least 29 fossil species.

Students To Hear Miss Val Lauder

VAL LAUDER, a young lady who made news by becoming America's youngest "teen-age advice" columnist a few years back, will speak to East Stroudsburg students Thursday, Jan. 27 at 8:40 a.m.

In an assembly program for both senior and junior high school students in the junior high auditorium, Miss Lauder will discuss her work on the Chicago Daily News.

Miss Lauder will also speak before students of Stroudsburg High School next Thursday morning in an assembly program.

Two Youths Pass ROTC Examinations

TWO EAST Stroudsburg High School youths were notified this week that they have passed examinations given by the National Reserve Officers Training Corps.

They are Judd Diehl and Adrian Tewksbury. Both are seniors in the school.

Diehl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Diehl, 748 Milford Road, East Stroudsburg. Tewksbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Tewksbury, RD2, same borough.

The tests were administered by a board of college officials selected on a regional basis.
